A NOTE FROM OUR CEO

JULIAN MOMEN

At Enotria&Coe, our commitment to curating an inspiring and relevant portfolio has never been stronger. As UK consumers continue to seek out distinctive, story-led wines and spirits, it's vital that we adapt and evolve - championing producers who bring both quality and character to the table. Developing our wine list is for us more than simply listing products; it's about supporting a vibrant, connected community across the trade - one built on shared values, collaboration and a passion for exceptional wine and spirits. With a combined 100 years' experience in buying wine, we take great pride in our extensive portfolio, whose diversity and quality enable us to meet the demands of a remarkably wide range of lists: from small, artisan family-run vigneron, to winemaking icons; from co-operatives who can meet the volume demands of our larger national accounts, to limited parcels of highly desirable fine wines.

At the same time, we're acutely aware of the challenges the trade is facing right now. From the evolving pressures around duty reform and EPR (Extended Producer Responsibility), to rising costs such as National Insurance increases and wider inflationary pressures, our customers are dealing with more complexity than ever. These additional burdens are making it harder to run a business in the on-trade, and we recognise just how tough it is. Please know - we're here to support you. Whether it's helping you navigate changing regulations, make strategic portfolio choices, or finding ways to operate more efficiently, our goal is to be a reliable partner in an increasingly demanding landscape.

We are pleased to introduce several exciting new additions to our portfolio this year, including two distinguished Rioja producers - Marqués de Cáceres and Viña Salceda. These houses bring both quality and diversity, strengthening our multichannel capabilities and ensuring a well-balanced selection for regional and national on-trade customers alike. Our South American range has also been significantly strengthened with the addition of several exciting producers. From Chile, Villard continues to stand out as one of the Casablanca Valley's most respected boutique wineries, known for its elegant, terroir-driven wines and pioneering spirit. We're also proud to supply Domaine Bousquet from Argentina - one of the most sustainable wineries in the country, and among the few globally to be certified in Regenerative Organic Viticulture. Enhancing this dynamic line-up is Uruguay's Familia Deicas, whose fresh, coastal wines reflect one of the most exciting and on-trend developments in South American winemaking.

Of course, it's not just about what's new - many of our most exciting stories are already rooted in the heart of our portfolio. Iconic names like E.Pira, Trimbach and Sierra Cantabria continue to capture the imagination of customers and critics alike, delivering benchmark quality and authenticity vintage after vintage. We're proud to celebrate standout achievements alongside these long-standing partners: Frescobaldi's Ripe al Convento 2019 received a stellar 97 points from Robert Parker for example, and Bertani's Amarone Classico 2015 earning a perfect 100-point score from James Suckling and being named Amarone of the Year. These accolades are testament not only to the craftsmanship of our producers but also to the enduring value of a thoughtfully curated range.

There's no doubt as we begin a new era as part of the Majestic Group, we can see ahead of us a new chapter full of opportunity. To reaffirm, Enotria&Coe will continue to operate as a standalone business, whilst the benefit of this partnership simply strengthens our ability to deliver what matters most to you: exceptional service, a world-class portfolio, and long-term value. With greater investment in people, technology, and logistics, we're building on everything that makes Enotria&Coe unique, while preparing to meet the future with agility and purpose. It marks the beginning of a new, brave way forward - one where we're even better equipped to help you thrive in a changing world.

Thank you for your continued trust in us. I, and everyone here at Enotria&Coe, wish you all the best for a successful and prosperous year ahead.

VIGNA PETRUSSA

Friuli Venezia Giulia, Italy | Founded in 1890

Vigna Petrusa is a boutique, female-led winery in the heart of the Judrio Valley, within Friuli’s Colli Orientali. Nurtured by three generations of women, it produces around 40,000 bottles annually from eight hectares, all cultivated in harmony with nature.

The estate champions native grape varieties—particularly Friulano, Malvasia, Picolit, Refosco and the distinctive Schioppettino. Owner Hilde’s dedication even led to the founding of the Schioppettino Producers Association of Prepotto.

Vigna Petrusa’s Schioppettino 2019 earned the Tre Bicchieri award in Gambero Rosso 2024—the only Friuli red to do so. Described by Ian D’Agata as “one of Italy’s best and most under-the-radar estates,” it remains SQNPI-certified and devoted to crafting wines of elegance, soul, and respect for the land.

WHAT DOES THIS ADD TO OUR PORTFOLIO?

A bold, women-led winery and hidden gem, this estate combines quality, terroir and craftsmanship in every bottle, offering a unique, innovative style. Perfect for the on-trade, it brings character, elegance and a compelling story to our Italian portfolio.

About the winemaker

The story of Vigna Petrusa began in the 1970s when Giuseppina Petrusa took charge of the family vineyards following the sudden loss of her husband. With a deep passion for Schioppettino, she crafted a sweet version of this distinctive wine, laying the foundation for the winery’s future.

In 1995, her daughter Hilde took over, bringing fresh vision and energy. A passionate advocate for Friuli’s native grape varieties and sustainable viticulture, Hilde elevated the estate and worked tirelessly to restore Schioppettino’s reputation. Today, Hilde is joined by her daughter Francesca, and together, they continue to honour tradition while embracing sustainability and innovation.

Founded in 1979 by Juan Carlos Deicas, who acquired the historic Establecimiento Juanicó winery, the family set out to transform Uruguayan wine by introducing modern techniques and focusing on noble French grape varieties, particularly those suited to the region’s unique terroir. CHAMPAGNE & SPARKLING

2025 TRENDS

Crémants

Crémants are becoming the UK’s sparkling wine of choice, offering Champagne-like quality at a significantly lower cost. With strict production standards and regional diversity, and in a market fuelled by economic pressures, consumers are replacing Champagne for both daily indulgences and celebratory occasions.

Sustainability & Modernization

Increasing environmental concerns are influencing consumer choices, with many brands introducing sustainable practices in vineyard management and production. These efforts align with younger consumers’ preferences for brands that demonstrate ecological responsibility.

Growth in Low & Non-Alcoholic Segments

While still niche, low-alcohol Champagne and sparkling wines are gaining traction, particularly among health-conscious and younger drinkers. This reflects broader trends in the wine and beverage sector.

Price Sensitivity & Premiumisation

Rising costs of production, including energy and grape prices, have led to significant price increases for Champagne, which has tempered sales volume growth. However, premium and luxury tiers continue to perform well as Champagne retains its status as an 'accessible luxury'.

Champagne Jacquart

Housed in the opulent 19th century Hôtel de Brimont, on the Boulevard Lundy in Reims, Champagne Jacquart is kept in good company, with fellow Champagne producers Krug and Roederer among its neighbours. As well as enabling winemaker Floriane to pick the best fruit for wines such as their cuvée de prestige, Alpha, and the house’s benchmark Blanc de Blancs, the many growers and vineyards supplying Jacquart also guarantee consistency and quality for the core non-vintage cuvée, Brut Mosaïque.

If you’re after the true heart of Champagne, then look no further. The Gobillard family lives mere metres from the grave of Dom Pérignon, and following decades of hard work, has secured 26 hectares of vines, much of which is Premier Cru that was once owned by the Bénédictine Hautvillers Abbey. A handful of carefully selected growers tend to a further 125 hectares nestled in the most prestigious crus, yielding a range of Champagnes that accentuate brightness, minerality and elegance over power and richness.

Maison Telmont

Maison Telmont was founded in 1912 by Henri Lhôpital, who was inspired by the Champagne riots of 1910 to establish a Champagne house that would espouse the values of quality that he believed were under threat. Since then, the Champagne house has been handed down through four generations of the family, always staying true to crafting wines “in the name of Mother Nature”. Living by three core values: humility, courage, and loyalty, they are a driving force in the region for respecting biodiversity, adopting renewable energy sources and ecological design. They are questioning all touchpoints between their wines and the environment by abolishing superfluous packaging, and using only 100% recyclable green glass. In 2017, some of Telmont’s plots received organic certification, and have committed to certifying all estate vines by 2031.

Champagne Laurent-Perrier

Situated in Tours-sur-Marne, just outside Reims, Laurent-Perrier is one of France’s most respected Grande Marque Champagnes. Their rosé is one of the rare Champagnes made exclusively from Pinot Noir, by the traditional method. Laurent-Perrier is now managed by the two daughters of Bernard de Nonancourt who catapulted the House to global fame. Alongside Cellar Master Michel Fauconnet, Alexandra and Stéphanie have continued to establish this as one of the region’s largest producers. Grand Siècle is unique among prestige cuvées in that it is always a blend of three declared vintages. Laurent-Perrier tends to shy away from vintage styles, believing that skilful assemblage can produce superior wines compared to relying solely on vintage conditions.

Moët & Chandon

Since its founding in 1743, Moët & Chandon has been passing down unrivalled winemaking savoir-faire and an innovative, pioneering spirit from generation to generation. Claude Moët was the first person to embody these values, making his Champagne the most sought after in Europe. Today, the estate includes 1,190 hectares of rich limestone soil – 50% of which is classed as Grand Cru and 25% Premier Cru – making it the largest vineyard area in Champagne.

Veuve Clicquot

Veuve Clicquot is undoubtedly one of the best-known and most recognisable of all Champagne marques. Founded in 1772, the house was built on the formidable reputation of the widow Clicquot, who managed the business for most of the 19th century. The vibrant orange label has become a hallmark of consistency and Champagne of the highest quality.

Pol Roger

Pol Roger has been producing exceptional Champagne for over 160 years. To its credit, the house remains small, family-owned, fiercely independent and unrivalled in its reputation for quality. Indeed, it's this quality which led to Sir Winston Churchill's lifelong attachment to Pol Roger, who famously insisted, "In defeat I need it, in victory I deserve it".

Ruinart

Way back in 1729, Nicolas Ruinart, a Reims draper like his father, started his first account ledger devoted to "wine with bubbles". This ledger serves as the birth certificate for the first Champagne House ever created. Since its inception, Champagne Ruinart has taken pride in the excellence of its cuvées. Interestingly, the unique shape of its bottle pays tribute to the historic bottles of the eighteenth century.

Krug

Krug may well be part of the Louis Vuitton-Moët Hennessy group, and incorporated into the Veuve Clicquot company; however, it remains a family-run business. Since 1843, when the firm was established in Germany, Krug has been producing oak-fermented wines, a practice that adds complexity, finesse and richness. Long ageing on the yeast, strict grape selection, and a unique father-to-son winemaking tradition all contribute to the exceptional quality that makes Krug so highly regarded.

Perrier-Jouët

Ever vigilant to the changing tastes of its customer, Perrier-Jouët has a remarkable history of innovation. In 1854, it became the first-ever producer of dry Champagne, and they were the first House to release ‘millésimes’ or ‘vintage’ Champagne. A few years down the track, in 1858, it was also the first House to state the ‘cru,’ or village name, and the year of the harvest on the cork, and then on the label itself by the 1860s.

Lanson

When Jean-Baptiste Lanson took the helm of the Champagne house, the company prospered and exports grew, particularly in Great Britain, where Lanson was awarded the Royal Warrant by Queen Victoria in 1900 - an honour it has retained to this day. Early on in the company’s history, the classically crisp house style was established when the family made the decision to vinify its wines without malolactic fermentation. This, combined with extended ageing in their cellars before release, contributes to what can best be described as beautifully complex and rewarding wines.

Burgundy

Veuve Ambal

The association of widows or ‘veuves’ and sparkling wine extends beyond Champagne, south into Burgundy where Veuve Ambal, the leading producer of Crémant de Bourgogne, is based. Marie Ambal married a Parisian banker and, when he died, she returned to her home village of Rully in Côte Chalonnaise to continue her family involvement in wine. Today, Veuve Ambal has 230 hectares of vineyards in Burgundy and is one of the most pristine wineries in the region.

Loire

Sylvain Gaudron

The Gaudron family – fourth generation Gilles Gaudron is currently at the helm – have been making wine in Vouvray, Vernou since 1890, farming a 27-hectare vineyard, two-thirds of it with an average age of 30 years. The cellars date back to the 13th century, with 1km of galleries burrowed deep into the rock. These are classy wines, superb vehicles for Loire Chenin Blancs – all racily fresh with a fine, chalky minerality.

Languedoc-Roussillon

Aubert & Mathieu

Aubert & Mathieu is the story of two friends, Anthony Aubert and Jean-Charles Mathieu, who met at school. A few years later, they met up for a drink: Anthony was already in the wine trade and Jean-Charles was in corporate banking. Realising they shared an ambition to make wines their own way, in 2016, they launched Aubert & Mathieu. The first vintage was released in March 2019 and very successful on Paris’s trendy restaurant scene. The Aubert & Mathieu identity is based on producing niche wines from the best terroirs of Languedoc-Roussillon while highlighting the nuances and singularities of each appellation. The DNA of their wines shows the perfect mastery of freshness, balance and the search for complexity. Inspiration, a carefree mindset and a little fantasy led them on their way! Aubert & Mathieu is also completely carbon neutral.

Contratto

The Contratto cellars were carved into the limestone underneath the winery and the vineyards in the 1860s. The labyrinthine cellars are now recognised as a UNESCO World Heritage site, while the winery is famous as a pioneer of non-Champagne sparkling wines. Their Moscato and Asti sparkling wines, made according to the Champagne method, were incredibly popular worldwide at the beginning of the 20th century. These historic export agreements are the reason behind the “For England” label on the Blanc de Noir Pas Dosé to this day.

Since the Rivetti family bought Contratto in 2011, they have employed their signature elan to take Contratto to new heights. They have invested in new vineyards, particularly focusing on high altitude plantings of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay.

Cava

Pere Ventura

Pere Ventura’s prestigious Cava house was established in 1992, but draws on a sparkling wine heritage that extends deep into the past. In fact, it was Pere’s great-grandfather who was responsible for the first Cava ever made by the classical method used in Champagne, and his grandfather and father continued to hone their technique in producing Cavas of distinction and poise.

Franck Massard

Crowned with the impressive title of the UK’s best sommelier in 1996, Frenchman Franck Massard quickly forged an even more illustrious reputation as a winemaker. After falling in love with Catalunya – and Priorat in particular – he took the leap and branched out on his own. Rías Baixas

Martín Códax

Bodegas Martín Códax is named after the medieval troubadour whose poetry is one of the oldest examples of Galician-Portuguese writing. His romantic poems are heavily imbued with coastal imagery, and today’s winemakers share this passion for sharing their culture.

In 30 years, the cooperative has grown from 50 grapegrowers to over 300 families. They were integral to the recognition of the Rías Baixas DO in 1988, and have been setting the benchmark ever since.

Hattingley Valley

From its birth as a farm diversification project back in 2008, family-owned Hattingley Valley is today recognised as one of the leading producers of English wines. Located in the heart of rural Hampshire, they now farm some 24 hectares of vines across two separate sites and their custom-built eco-friendly winery was the first in the UK to adopt solar power. The traditional method is integral to making their exceptional sparkling wines and they owe their unique style to the use of barrel ageing, as well as extensive ageing on lees. This has led them to win much international acclaim and a multitude of awards ever since the launch of their first wines in 2013.

Alfredo and Katrina Pizzini’s winemaking dream began in 1978 when they planted their first vines, initially selling grapes to other wine companies and then releasing wines under their own label in 1994. With a commitment to Pizzini’s Italian heritage, they have a real focus on Italian varieties including Pinot Grigio, Verduzzo, Lambrusco, Nebbiolo and Sangiovese. A truly family-run business, with their four adult children all working in the business alongside Alfredo and Katrina, they continue to ensure their business focuses on their four loves – wine, food, family and friends. Ken Forrester Wines

Without the efforts of industrious men like Ken Forrester, South African Chenin Blanc might be scarcely more than a footnote to the country’s winemaking history – a workhorse grape, producing vast amounts of unmemorable white wine. Thankfully, this Zambia-born former restaurateur saw beyond the grape’s obvious quaffability, going on to produce wines such as The FMC that have not only elevated the varietal to worldwide renown, but resulted in their creator being bestowed the moniker ‘Mr Chenin’.

ITALY

2025 TRENDS

Regional Identity

Wine has always been deeply rooted in regions like Piemonte, Tuscany and Sicily, but there's been a resurgence in other part of the country emphasising regional terroirs, traditions and indigenous grape varieties. Younger winemakers are leading this charge, embracing sustainability and a return to more traditional production methods that reflect the distinct characteristics of each region. Creating a more diverse and vibrant Italian wine landscape with a strong focus on heritage and authenticity.

Piemonte

Piemonte is one of Italy's most famous wine regions, and while Barolo "The King" often steals the spotlight there's a rich variety of wines to explore beyond it. Its diversity is remarkable due to the region's unique geography and climate. We have seen an increase in the popularity of Alta Langa sparkling wines and varietal Nebbiolo from the Langhe and Alba DOCs, often described as the younger sibling of Barolo.

Veneto & the North-East

Winemakers are increasingly focused on indigenous grape varieties and sustainable agriculture. Anselmi winery has gained acclaim for its innovative approach to viticulture, Roberto Anselmi has embraced the cultivation of Piwi grape varieties - fungus-resistant hybrids developed to reduce the need for chemical treatments in vineyard. By integrating Piwi varieties into their vineyards Anselmi contributes to the advancement of sustainable viticulture. In neighbouring Friuli-Venezia Giulia, varieties like Ribolla, Schioppettino and Friulano are gaining attention for their distinctive profile and historical roots.

Tuscany

One of Italy's most historic and highly regarded wine regions, with deep rooted wine-making traditions, is reshaping its global reputation. Innovation and sustainability are at the heart of this, with eco-friendly packaging and renewable energy acting as key factors. Maremma, a coastal region in southern Tuscany, is emerging as a hotspot for wine innovation. Rosé from Maremma is well regarded for its quality and distinctive flavours.

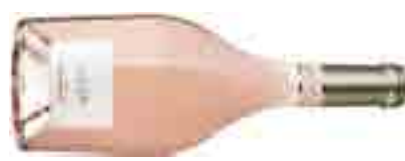

Sicily

Diversity & quality, a showcase of the unique characteristics of Sicilian terroir. The island's varied geography and climate contribute to a wide range of wine styles. Emphasis on sustainability is becoming a core aspect of wine making, producers are adopting organic and biodynamic practices, reducing their environmental footprint and focusing on eco-friendly packaging.

VENETO & NORTH-EAST

The climate and soils of this area mean that there is a notable bias towards white wines, however the output is still vastly diverse.

Sartori

Back in the late 19th century, Pietro Sartori’s trattoria was a bustling venue where Veronese merchants and industrialists would meet, do business, eat and, of course, drink. As a result of these comings and goings, Pietro needed to maintain ample supply of good Rosso Veronese, which led him to buying a vineyard in Negrar in 1898. It was here that the Sartori story began. Stretching the boundaries of Veronese wine, without sacrificing the grapes and local winemaking styles, these are bespoke wines for today’s market.

Ottella

Francesco Montresor gave up his legal career in order to dedicate himself, alongside his brother, Michele, to the family estate that was founded in 1890. The farm owns 23 hectares of vineyards near Peschiera del Garda. We believe that Ottella’s excellent range shows the versatility of Lugana. From the benchmark, textbook entry-level Lugana, through the single site, mineral rich “Le Creete” and the skin contact, amphorae made “Back to Silence” finishing with the majestic, powerful “Molceo” Riserva which utilises later-picked grapes to give a fuller, rounder flavour profile.

Friuli-Venezia Giulia

Marco Felluga

The Felluga family has a rich history in the winemaking world, tracing their roots back to the 19th century in Istria. Over the years, successive generations of the family have migrated anti-clockwise around the peninsula, seeking out better wine markets. They first moved from Istria to the island of Grado, before moving further inland to Gradisca d'Isonzo.

The winery is situated on a beautiful hillside overlooking the Isonzo River, with vineyards covering over 100 hectares of land in the Collio and Colli Orientali del Friuli regions. The unique terroir of the area, with its limestone soils and maritime climate, provides ideal conditions for growing grape varieties such as Friulano, Ribolla Gialla, Pinot Grigio, and Sauvignon Blanc.

Today, Ilaria, granddaughter of founder Marco Felluga, continues the family winemaking legacy in the Collio area of Friuli. Her dedication to producing benchmark wines is evident in the exceptional quality of her products.

Vigna Petrusa

Vigna Petrusa is a boutique, female-led winery in the heart of the Judrio Valley, within Friuli’s Colli Orientali. Nurtured by three generations of women, it produces around 40,000 bottles annually from eight hectares, all cultivated in harmony with nature.

The estate champions native grape varieties—particularly Friulano, Malvasia, Picolit, Refosco and the distinctive Schioppettino. Owner Hilde’s dedication even led to the founding of the Schioppettino Producers Association of Prepotto.

Vigna Petrusa’s Schioppettino 2019 earned the Tre Bicchieri award in Gambero Rosso 2024—the only Friuli red to do so. Described by Ian D’Agata as “one of Italy’s best and most under-the-radar estates,” it remains SQNPI-certified and devoted to crafting wines of elegance, soul, and respect for the land.

Cantine Giacomo Ascheri

A specialist in the production of Barolo - producing a textbook, approachable style that will delight the Barolo fanatic as well as the consumer new to the area. Matteo also champions the other grapes of the area making classic, very drinkable version of Arneis, Cortese (in his superb Gavi di Gavi), a Dolcetto and a great Langhe Nebbiolo from a single site just below La Morra, both without the influence of oak, ensuring the purity of fruit is on abundant display.

La Spinetta

The Rivetti family are farmers through and through. Giorgio Rivetti (who also owns the Contratto winery) is a force to be reckoned with in the region, and starred in the 2014 documentary 'Barolo Boys' about the group of winemakers who tore up the rule book for winemaking in the 1980s and 90s and reshaped the identity of Barolo through technical innovation. This uncompromising pursuit of excellence earned La Spinetta a worldwide reputation.

Their bold labels feature the rhinoceros and lion by Renaissance artist Albrecht Dürer. These powerful creatures evoke La Spinetta's signature house style and philosophy, while also nodding to Dürer's virtuosic reinvention of the woodcut medium.

Contratto

The Contratto cellars were carved into the limestone underneath the winery and the vineyards in the 1860s. The labyrinthine cellars are now recognised as a UNESCO World Heritage site, while the winery is famous as a pioneer of non-Champagne sparkling wines. Their Moscato and Asti sparkling wines, made in the Champagne method, were incredibly popular worldwide at the beginning of the 20th century. These historic export agreements are the reason behind the “For England” label on the Blanc de Noir Pas Dosé to this day. Since the Rivetti family bought Contratto in 2011, they have employed their signature elan to take Contratto to new heights. They have invested in new vineyards, particularly focusing on high altitude plantings of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay.

E. Pira

Since 1990, this jewel of Barolo has been run by the energetic and multi-talented Chiara Boschis. Her mission? To add an aromatically elegant edge to the legendary power of these great wines. She has added vineyards in Monforte to the original estate, but the heart of E. Pira remains as it was in the days of the late Luigi Pira – just 2.5 hectares of vines in Barolo’s prized enclaves of Cannubi, Cannubi San Lorenzo, and Via Nuova.

Azienda Agricola Negro

Azienda Agricola Negro is an entirely family affair; parents Giovanni and Marisa have recruited the help of sons Gabriele, Angelo and Giuseppe to run the 48 hectare vineyard and winery, while daughter Emanuela takes care of sales and marketing. Nicola Bergaglio

Organics are meaningless as far as the Bergaglios are concerned; what matter are the numbers of swallows which come back each year to enjoy the insects which thrive in their vineyards on the old and healthy Cortese plants. Consequently, what can be achieved through hard work is important, and getting hold of the family is difficult: in the first week of December they were cutting down chestnut trees on their estate; then they cut the timber into shape; then they took some other timber which had been seasoned in the open for over a year and they used it to replace stakes in their vineyard. The Gavi di Gavi, La Minaia, bears testament to this. ‘Minaia’ means ‘mine’ and mines mean minerals; lots of lemony minerals.

Cantine Volpi

Founded in Tortona in 1914, Cantine Volpi is still family-run, with fourth generation Carlo Volpi now at the helm. With a long winemaking history, the Tortonese hills sit at the meeting point of Lombardy, Emilia Romagna and Liguria, and there is evidence of wine production as far back as 1198 with a grape press found in the local monastery. The Barbera and Cortese wines in this range are a reflection of the climate and the unique characteristics of the Tortona region, while two additions to the portfolio of the indigenous Timorasso grape herald a bright new chapter for this producer.

Rovellotti

The Rovellotti family has been making wine on a small scale in Alto Piemonte for over 600 years, handing down philosophies and techniques from one generation to the next. Over the years, they have modernised in line with developments in sustainability and technology. Rovellotti officially established its winery in 1972, coincidentally the same year that Enotria Winecellars was founded. The local council granted the family permission to locate their winery and cellar complex in the Ricetto Castle, around which lie the family's 25 hectares of vines. In the last 50 years, this producer has set the bar for the Ghemme appellation.

Ezio Cocito is an old friend of Giorgio Rivetti, owner of La Spinetta and more recently Contratto. They both share a great passion for horses and great wines.

In 2000, Ezio bought the Baluchin Estate in Neive, right in the Barbaresco area, and asked his old friend Giorgio for a help in making the wine. Baluchin Barbaresco is made only in exceptional vintages. We are proud to have it in our range, with a small allocation of the 2013 and 2015 vintages.

Mosnel is a historic family-owned producer in Franciacorta. Founded as Azienda Agricola Barzano Barboglio in 1836, five generations later it became a protagonist in the transformation of the region from a district producing simple red wines, to leading a revolution in Italian traditional method sparkling. They organically farm 41 ha planted in densities between 5000 to 8000 vines per hectare, with yields around 2kg per vine. Their style prizes elegance above all else, extended lees and barrel maturation and a higher than average use of Pinot Bianco in the blend, lending individuality and regional typicity to the wines.

Chianti

Casa Brancaia

Over Christmas in 1980, a Swiss family called the Widmers travelled to Tuscany and fell in love with a beautiful estate owned by an elderly English gentleman who was looking to sell. Incorporating what was historically two estates called Brancaia and Poppi, it is in the heart of Chianti Classico. The Widmers moved quickly and soon won their first award for the 1983 Chianti Classico. Their daughter, Barbara Widmer, took over as winemaker in 1998. This was also the year in which the Widmers acquired the Maremma estate, which was released as the Ilatraia in 2002, scoring 95 points in Wine International. Their top wine, Il Blu, quickly became a classic for Super-Tuscan fans around the world.

Montalcino

Fattoria dei Barbi

Founded in 1790 by the Colombini family, the winery has been producing some of the finest Brunello di Montalcino wines for over two centuries.

The winery’s founder, Stefano Colombini, was a pioneer of modern winemaking techniques in Tuscany. He was one of the first to plant Sangiovese grapes in the Montalcino region and recognized the potential for the grapes to produce high-quality wines. His dedication and passion for winemaking has been passed down through seven generations of the Colombini family.

Today, with Stefano Cinelli Colombini serving as the CEO and winemaker, Fattoria dei Barbi is one of the most respected and renowned wineries in Italy. The winery’s vineyards are spread over 300 hectares of land, and the grapes are hand-harvested to ensure the highest quality.

Fattoria dei Barbi continue to innovate and push the boundaries of winemaking, while staying true to its roots and traditions.

Il Poggione

High on its perch overlooking the lush Maremma, Tenuta Il Poggione has been synonymous with top quality Brunello for more than a century. Its dramatic scenery proved irresistible to Florentine landowner Lavinio Franceschi in the late 19th century, drawn to the area by the tales of a local shepherd whose sheep spent the summer months on the sunlit slopes between Montalcino and Sant’Angelo. Now in the capable hands of fifth-generation owners L & L Franceschi, Il Poggione has about 125 hectares of the finest Brunello vineyards going, and a 10-year-old winery that combines modern equipment with a traditional approach, not least in the large French oak barrels so vital to the development of its classic Brunello and Rosso di Montalcino.

Montepulciano

Poliziano

Since its foundation in 1961, Poliziano has swiftly established a reputation as one of the leading producers in the area surrounding the beautiful town of Montepulciano. The winery’s story taps into the history and culture of this picture-postcard corner of Tuscany. The name Poliziano is a tribute to the Renaissance humanist and poet Angelo Ambrogini, also known as Poliziano. His ‘nickname,’ Poliziano, is a simple reference to his birthplace – Montepulciano was originally Mons Politianus in Latin. And why Asinone? The vineyard gets its name from its shape, said to resemble the back of a mule.

Umbria

Arnaldo Caprai

Arnaldo Caprai, a successful textiles merchant, made a bold career change in 1971 when he purchased five hectares of land in Umbria that captivated his imagination. Over the next 17 years, he gradually acquired more vineyards until he passed the reins to his son, Marco Caprai, in 1988.

In the 1990s, Marco partnered with the University of Milan and invested heavily in advanced scientific and technological research. This led to the discovery of new clones of the Sagrantino grape, which is native to Umbria. As a result of this pioneering work, Caprai has become recognized as the preeminent producer of Sagrantino di Montefalco, made exclusively from 100% Sagrantino grapes.

Marco Caprai's passion for science and innovation continues to guide the winery's practices, including a rigorous approach to sustainability that involves detailed reporting on CO2 emissions and increasing biodiversity in the vineyards. Today, Arnaldo Caprai Winery stands as a shining example of how cutting-edge research and traditional winemaking techniques can work together to produce exceptional wines while preserving the environment for future generations.

CENTRAL ITALY

Sometimes overlooked, central Italy is home to some of Italy's most fertile agricultural land and its wines are some of the country's most popular.

Crafting wines which are approachable, interesting and diverse, it is an area which experiments with the rediscovery of little-known indigenous grape varieties, as well as ongoing research and development to evolve wine styles and production techniques.

Fazi Battaglia & Tenute San Sisto

Fazi Battaglia takes pride in its association with a brand that inherently embodies the essence of pure Italian identity and culture. Founded in 1949 in a humble cellar, the winery dedicated decades to enhancing the vineyards and focusing on a single grape variety - Verdicchio. These forward-thinking decisions paved the way for Fazi Battaglia to become pioneers in the Marche region and the leading champions of Verdicchio in Italy.

The project began with a clear vision, one which has inspired every decision from the time of its inception: to create a new sort of vinegrowing and wine producing business. With a basis in values of integrity, passion, science and dedication they are beginning a new chapter in the wine history of Lazio, taking cues from the ancient past to create a new era of excellence.

Bosco Nestore

Giovanni Bosco began growing vines in 1897 and then passed on the winery to his son Nestore. The wines had gained a local reputation for the intense perfume and spiced palate, but it was the recognition of the Montepulciano d'Abruzzo DOC in 1968 that propelled the international reputation of Bosco’s wines. As the coveted slopes of Pescara became saturated with vineyards, the Bosco family expanded inland and focused their production on only the highest quality fruit. In the 1980s, the third and fourth generations of the family built a new winery in Nocciano. Wines are matured in a combination of large barrels of Slovenian oak, new barriques and in bottle.

SOUTH & ISLANDS

Italy's 'boot' enjoys geographical and climatic diversity, from the mountains of Campania to the rocky shores of Puglia. The styles of wine produced are as diverse as the topography: pure, aromatic whites from Avellino; the robust reds of Menfi; and the intense sweet wines of Noto. Sicily's mountainous terrain with lean soil, intense summer heat and scarce rainfall makes it ideal for viticulture, enjoying a hot ripening season tempered by elevated vineyards.

Basilicata

Donato D’Angelo

In 2001, the husband and wife team of Donato D’Angelo and Filomena Ruppi embarked on a new venture by acquiring 20 hectares of vineyards. Their goal was to produce consistently high-quality wines that would showcase the unique terroir of the region: Basilicata.

The vineyards, situated on the slopes of Mount Vulture, were primarily planted with the Aglianico grape, which makes up 80% of the vines. Additionally, they planted Cabernet Sauvignon and Fiano.

Primitivo, a native varietal of Puglia, in the heel of Italy’s boot, is derived from the Latin Primativus meaning ‘early to ripen’ - it’s no surprise then that it’s one of the first red grapes to be harvested in Southern Italy. Thanks to modern winemaking, this grape has been elevated from a humble quaffing wine to a delicious, jammy and moreish style, whose quality belies its price tag. A hugely popular red for casual dining lists.

Serra Ferdinanda

Serra Ferdinanda is named after a volcanic island that suddenly emerged from the sea in the Strait of Sicily in July 1831 as a result of a series of earthquakes and volcanic eruptions. Both the French and Sicilian navies immediately noticed this new island and fought fiercely over it for the next four months until it sank back under the sea's surface just as suddenly as it had appeared. Almost two centuries later, the winery Serra Ferdinanda is a collaboration between the Sicilian Planeta family and the Oddos of Provence. The three wines in this range are all blends of indigenous Sicilian varieties and classic French varieties, vinified through shared ideas and experience from these two great families. The collaboration between two families from Sicily and Provence is a wonderful expression of the knowledge sharing, supra-national zeitgeist.

Sardinia

Santadi

It sometimes helps to think of Sulcis, in south-western Sardinia, as Sardinia's Yorkshire (but with better weather), a coal-mining region where the coal mines have been shut by government decree. For the people of Sulcis, alternative employment came either through migration – it's said that if you look in any Italian restaurant kitchen in London you'll find at least one Sardinian working there – or through grape-growing. Local producer Santadi is of the latter group, with the company's dozens of growers producing wines prized throughout Italy for their suppleness and refinement. They don't tend to promote this however – Sardinians are often unassuming and, by Italian standards, even introverted – but these Carignano and Vermentino wines are suffused with distinctive character, and are a perfectly pitched combination of warmth and freshness.

FRANCE

2025 TRENDS

Emerging Regions

Consumers are exploring wines from less mainstream French regions such as Savoie, Corsica and lesser-known IGP in Southern France and the South-West. There is also a drive to try underappreciated local grape varieties. These offer excellent quality at more accessible price points, appealing to those seeking new experiences.

Fresh & Light: A New Era for French Wines

Lower-alcohol French wines are becoming increasingly popular in the UK, driven by consumer demand for lighter, health-conscious options. Producers are responding by harvesting earlier or exploring naturally low-alcohol grape varieties. Regions like the Loire Valley and Languedoc are gaining attention for their fresh, vibrant wines with ABVs of 11% or lower. These wines cater to the “less but better” drinking trend, aligning with a preference for moderation.

Sustainable & Organic Wines

As consumers become more aware of climate change, the demand for wines made using sustainable practices has surged. Organic wines are now seen as the standard, with growing interest in minimal intervention. This shift reflects a broader trend toward environmentally conscious consumption.

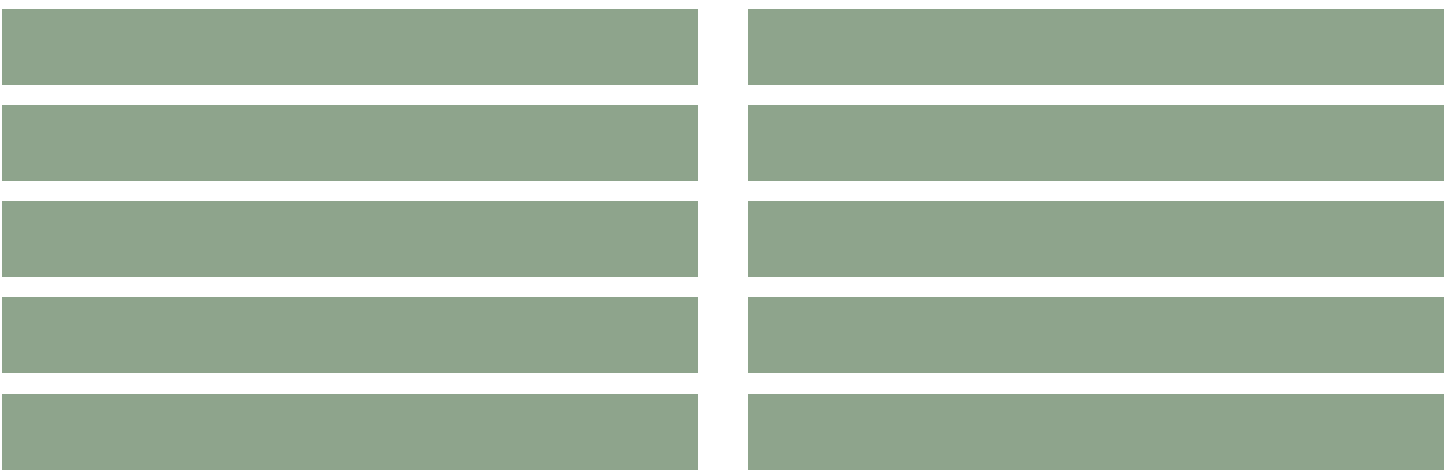

Innovative Packaging

Sustainability in packaging is gaining momentum, with wine producers increasingly adopting lightweight bottles and alternative formats such as cans and bag-in-box. These options not only reduce the environmental footprint, but also offer added convenience for consumers, particularly those who prioritize eco-friendly choices.

Rosé & Lighter Reds

Rosé remains popular, particularly Provence styles, which continue to resonate with consumers for their freshness and versatility. Additionally, there is an increasing appreciation for lighter and even chillable reds that can complement a variety of cuisines.

ALSACE

Sheltered by the densely forested Vosges Mountains, Alsace is celebrated for its aromatic white wines.

Unlike Germany, the winemaking philosophy here is to ferment all the grape sugar into alcohol, resulting in dry, full-bodied wines. There is no better expression of this than the wines from the world-renowned Trimbach.

Alsace

Trimbach

Maison Trimbach is unquestionably one of the greatest Alsace producers, highly regarded for their historic excellence and their visionary spirit. Even after 13 generations, the family (Pierre, Jean, Anne, Julien, Frédérique and Pauline currently) remains true to the philosophy handed down to them by their 19th century ancestor, Frédéric Emile. This means bone-dry wines that are strong on structure, longevity and fruit, with unparalleled elegance, balance and food-friendly versatility.

The estate offers a pure reflection of the sun-warmed, diverse terroirs surrounding Ribeauvillé, the medieval town the family has called home for over a century. With an average vine age of 45 years, their 58 hectares of vines stretch over more than 70 parcels and nine villages, including Grand Crus Geisberg, Schlossberg, Mandelberg and Brand.

The family has recently begun converting their vineyards to organic farming practices, so with each new vintage, more of their wines will proudly carry organic certification.

Nuiton-Beaunoy

Nuiton-Beaunoy are a Beaune-based cooperative founded in 1957 when ten growers came together from the Hautes-Côtes de Beaune area. The cooperative is now proud to work with 80 growers and is still the only cooperative wine cellar in the Côte d’Or region. The Cave has committed to the “Vignerons Développement Durable” (sustainable development for wine growers) initiative, which promotes a viable, fair and sustainable approach.

Maison Joseph Drouhin

Maison Joseph Drouhin has accrued five generations of experience since it was established in 1880. The family is dedicated to tradition and respect for Burgundy’s deep heritage. Nonetheless, the winery was one of the first in the region to experiment with organic production, with all vineyards officially being certified organic from 2009. The 80 hectares are spread across the most prestigious appellations of the region, including the famous Beaune Clos des Mouches, that Maurice Drouhin (son of the founder, Joseph) had to painstakingly buy plot by plot from the many neighbours who had owned it previously. Today, siblings Frédéric, Laurent, Philippe and Véronique share management responsibilities and each contribute their unique expertise to maintain excellence in all areas of operations.

Chablis

Louis Michel & Fils

That classic tasting note for benchmark, top-quality Chablis – precise, linear, the scent of sea-washed shingle – could have been composed with the wines of Louis Michel in mind. That much overused tasting note descriptor, ‘minerality’, truly applies here. These are wines for the true Chablis lover from a producer who turned his back on oak in the 1970s and has stuck to those principles ever since. Sample the leesy, rounded, nutty complexity of wines such as the remarkable Grand Cru Les Clos and you’ll see why. What could oak possibly add? Guillaume Gicqueau-Michel, the sixth generation of the Michel family to manage the estate established in 1850, applies the same principles of minimal intervention and precise expression to every wine in the range, from Petit Chablis up to Grand Cru.

Bernard Defaix

After speaking to Didier and Hélène Defaix for just five minutes, you start to realise what makes their wines so special. Not only do they have holdings in some of Chablis’ best-situated vineyards, their attention to detail in vine growing and winemaking is astounding. Their focus has been on taking care of the vineyard through improving soil structure, biological pest control and painstaking vegetation management; their cellar work is similarly precise. All this enables the potential of each ‘terroir’ to fully express itself through fine, powerful and distinguished wines, which have a succulence of texture married to serious intensity of flavour that makes them delicious young, yet also capable of considerable cellaring.

Côte de Beaune

Maillard Père et Fils

One of Burgundy’s friendliest and most down-to-earth winemakers, Pascal Maillard crafts particularly well-priced wines with juicy, fruit-forward personalities from his 20-hectare domaine in Chorey-lès-Beaune. In an appellation with a reputation for hardness, Pascal has proved to be an expert at bringing charm and appeal to his wines, which display beautiful fruit balanced with an intense minerality.

Focused around Meursault, he also owns vineyards in Puligny, Volnay and Pommard. Jean-Michel’s Meursaults are classically rich and opulent, with fresh balancing acidity. Maison Roche de Bellene

These wines are made by born and bred Burgundian Nicolas Potel who is highly regarded in the region (his father ran Domaine de La Pousse d'Or). Nicolas cut his teeth at Georges Roumier, along with other wineries such as Moss Wood, before establishing his own negotiant business called Nicolas Potel. In 2008 he started Maison Roche de Bellene, which offer a very broad range of Burgundy wines across multiple appellations.

Crémant de Bourgogne

Veuve Ambal

The association of widows or ‘veuves’ and sparkling wine extends beyond Champagne, south into Burgundy where Veuve Ambal, the leading producer of Crémant de Bourgogne, is located. Its story began in 1898, when Marie Ambal, following the death of her Parisian banker husband, returned to her home village of Rully in Côte Chalonnaise to pursue her family's involvement in wine. Today, the maison continues to be run by the same family, with 6th generation Aurélien Piffaut now at the helm. With 230 hectares of vineyards in Burgundy, Veuve Ambal is one of the most pristine wineries in the region.

Côte Chalonnaise

Domaine Michel Juillot

Mercurey and the Côte Chalonnaise run through the veins of the Juillot family, whose domaine of more than 30 hectares is one of the most respected in the area – praised for wines that champion fruit and fresh elegance over exoticism and extraction. There’s evidence that the Juillots were tilling the vineyards of Mercurey as long ago as 1404, and Louis Juillot – great-grandfather of current manager Laurent – planted the first vines after the phylloxera catastrophe.

Owners Roger and Christine Saumaize took on the domaine in 1978, and have been dedicated to caring for the health of the soil and vines ever since. Domaine Ferret

In 1840, the Ferret family established this 18-hectare estate, which is located at the heart of the most famous ‘climats’ of the Fuissé amphitheatre. Renowned for ‘parcel by parcel’ vinification pioneered by Madame Ferret, today this tradition is carried on by winemaker Audrey Baccini. At Domaine Ferret, they are driven by the belief that in order to make a great wine, one needs, above all, to respect one’s heritage. Add to this a tailor-made approach to viticulture, and you’ve got a collection of truly sublime, complex wines.

Vignerons des Terres Secrètes

Vignerons des Terres Secrètes, or ‘winegrowers from the Secret Lands,’ is a group of producers from southern Burgundy. Located in the Mâconnais, they produce excellent wines from the best terroirs of the rolling, sun-washed landscape of the Mâconnais region. Vignerons des Terres Secrètes are certified ‘Vignerons engagés,’ which is a French sustainable wine growing certification governed by the following guidelines: protection of the environment; a recycling scheme; a quality traceability scheme from the vine to the glass; and ensuring producers are paid fairly. ‘Vignerons Engagés’ also supports local initiatives including the refurbishment of old buildings, to protect the region’s history and legacy.

BEAUJOLAIS

One of the few winemaking regions in the world to focus on a single grape variety, the vineyards in Beaujolais are planted almost entirely with Gamay, the grape from which Beaujolais's signature style is produced.

With light, vibrant and fruity reds combining refreshing acidity, fruit-driven flavours and low tannins, Beaujolais offers a vast contrast to the heavy, tannic styles of the surrounding regions. Propelling Beaujolais into public awareness and popularity, the region is also home to the now-famed Beaujolais Nouveau; a tradition that offers an early-release style bottled a mere 6-8 weeks after harvest and with no ageing at all.

Beaujolais

Domaine Chermette

Pierre and Martine Chermette are producers of serious Beaujolais. They avoid the ubiquitous use of cultured yeasts and chaptalisation, believing that character comes from ripe grapes and local yeasts. Consequently, the wines are a revelation, showing what the Gamay grape is truly capable of when handled with respect. All the wines from this excellent estate are bottled without filtration.

BORDEAUX

A region producing more fine wine than any other, Bordeaux is renowned for some of the world's most sought-after bottles; offering white and dessert wines as well as reds.

From the sun-drenched terraces of medieval Saint-Émilion to the glacial gravel of Médoc, Bordeaux encompasses a multitude of terroirs and microclimates, and this is reflected in the region's vast array of wine styles.

Bordeaux

La Passion des Terroirs

La Passion des Terroirs (previously known as Lucien Lurton) has been owned by the Lurton family for six generations. Having revived several of the region’s Grands Crus Classés, the Lurtons have established themselves as one of the most emblematic families in Bordeaux. In the 1950s, third generation winemaker Lucien Lurton acquired a number of Bordeaux flagship properties including many classified growths. A great connoisseur and champion of the best terroirs, he made his name by defending many parcels, which were coveted by gravel merchants when the vineyards were in major crisis.

In 1992, he handed down his properties to his ten children. Today, Denis has Desmirail (3ème Cru Classé Margaux); Henri has Brane-Cantenac (2ème Cru Classé Margaux); Marie-Laure has Villegeorge (Haut-Médoc); Sophie runs Bouscaut (Cru Classé Graves) and Lamothe-Bouscaut (Pessac Léognan) which was purchased in 1999; Gonzague looks after Château Durfort-Vivens (2ème Cru Classé Margaux), and also manages Château Haut-Bages Libéral (5ème Cru Classé Pauillac) with his wife, Claire Villars; Thierry is owner of Camarsac (Entre-deux-Mers), and until recently Bérénice was at the helm of the sumptuous Château Climens (1er Cru Classé Barsac). A majority share in Château Climens was sold to the Moitry family in 2022, who are dedicated to continue Bérénice’s fantastic work. Climens remains today the only First Classified Growth in Bordeaux to be certified biodynamic.

Entre-Deux-Mers & Bordeaux

Château Sainte-Marie

Sainte-Marie owner Stéphane Dupuch’s determination and superb results stand out against the ocean of indifferent Entre-Deux-Mers whites and Bordeaux Supérieur reds that are produced in the region. Since the property has been in Stéphane’s hands, he and his wife have raised the standards enormously. In a region of varied soils, the focus is to plant vine varieties in the places that will bring out the best qualities in their fruit, fully allowing the grapes to express the inherent, subtle qualities of their terroir.

The Labuzan family, who continue to own and run the winery today, with brothers Thierry and Denis at the helm, are part of a long line of wine specialists, their first Labuzan vines being planted as far back as 1847. Today, despite a continued focus on Merlot, the winery has expanded into growing Cabernet Sauvignon, Sémillon and Sauvignon Blanc varietals.

Margaux

Château d’Issan

Château d’Issan - Margaux Third Growth from the 1855 Bordeaux classification - is reported to have been served at the marriage of Eleanor d'Aquitaine and Henry Plantagenet during the Middle Ages. There are records of Château d’Issan being kept in the cellars of The Prince of Wales during the 18th century, and in the late 19th century the Emperor Franz-Joseph of Austria thought so highly of this wine that he regularly served it at court. The château’s motto is “For the Tables of Kings and the Altars of Gods” – if you are looking for a Claret with pedigree, you can’t go far wrong with this timeless classic.

Pauillac

Château Grand-Puy Ducasse

Château Grand-Puy Ducasse is a Pauillac Fifth Growth from the 1855 Bordeaux classification. Until 1750, Grand-Puy meant a low, gravel hill with one single property. However, in the mid XVIIIth century, Pierre Ducasse bought a part of the Grand-Puy vineyard in Pauillac, which was then divided into two vineyards: Grand-Puy Ducasse and Grand-Puy Lacoste. Today, the Château Grand-Puy Ducasse vineyard is 40 hectares, divided between three main plots within the Pauillac appellation which neighbours first growth Pauillac estates. Planted in the sandy Garonne gravel, the vines have an average age of 25 years, with 62% of them Cabernet Sauvignon and 38% Merlot.

Château Phélan Ségur, in the iconic Bordeaux Saint-Estèphe appellation, had an origin a little different to the majority of French châteaux; it was established by Bernard O’Phelan, a young Irish wine merchant, in the 19th century. Four families and two centuries of winemaking passion later, Château Phélan Ségur has created an identity based on elegance and finesse. Ancestral know-how, authenticity and ultimate respect of traditions are of the utmost importance to the team, who continue to craft quality wines today, within what they perceive as a ‘living heritage.’

Their flagship Sancerre comes from one of the finest vineyards in the appellation, Domaine du Rochoy, a 25-acre monopole vineyard carved out of the flint hillside overlooking the Loire River. Rochoy offers grapes with wonderful ripeness and incredible mineral expression from Silex soils, the rarest terroir in Sancerre. As a certified organic producer, Domaine Laporte makes their wines in a very traditional and natural way, ensuring a sense of purity and excellence in the finished product.

Domaine Mabillot is a small ten-hectare estate run by two brothers, Matthieu and Renaud. With work experience at Lynch-Bages and in the Napa and Barossa Valleys, Matthieu took over from his father Alain several years back and he has now been joined by his brother Renaud. Together they have increased the size of the estate from Alain’s three hectares to its current ten hectares. The appellation of Reuilly is very small, therefore much of the winemaking operates on a co-operative level and they use the services of a winery called a ‘chai’. Reuilly is a small appellation that offers incredible styles of Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Noir with real Loire typicity, but without the price point. This adds regionality to our portfolio in terms of alternative Sauvignon appellations, a juicy and fruity Pinot Noir and a textural Rosé.

Pouilly-Fumé

Château Favray

The well-established vineyards of Château Favray sit in an enviable position: south-facing, sun-filled and with a hillside location high above the Nohain river. This is quintessential Pouilly-Fumé in a fresh, open and relatively fruit-forward style, helped by the presence of heat-reflective pebbles in the limestone soil. And yet, as recently as the beginning of the 1980s, this was farmland; until its potential became obvious to Quentin David when he inherited the land, converting it to 15 hectares of some of the finest Sauvignon Blanc territory to be found anywhere.

Touraine

Lionel Gosseaume

If wine is in the blood, it seems you just can't fight it. Lionel Gosseaume resisted until the age of 37, before giving in to the inevitable and taking on this small estate on the Touraine/Sologne border, between the Loire and its tributary the Cher. That was in 2007, and the name Lionel gave to this 15-hectare collection of eight parcels of vines across four communes was Domaine de Pierre, after his late vigneron father. Indeed, the family vineyards where Lionel grew up lie nearby.

Domaine de Pierre's vineyards date back to the late 19th century, and in Lionel's hands the wines they produce have risen above the Touraine norm, including a Sauvignon Blanc to put many Sancerres to shame for its concentration and power. Meanwhile, his Gamay exhibits a precision and suppleness that would make many a Beaujolais producer envious. Lionel freely admits that it's a variety that could 'run rings around' him, but for a regime that combines heavy pruning with allowing the grass to grow between the rows, curbing the vine's natural vigour.

Muscadet

Jérémie Huchet

Sustainability and respect for terroir lie at the heart of Jérémie Huchet’s winemaking practices. The winery spans four noted terroirs, each with individual traits that result in wines that are vastly different in some ways, but uniform in their level of quality. The whole winery has followed sustainable practices since 2001, and is well on its way to achieving organic certification; all the grapes produced are harvested from vines that have been entirely cultivated, ploughed and harvested through natural methods.

Pierre Sourdais has built a reputation for the consistently high quality of his Chinon. With a plethora of different soil types on his 25-hectare property from which to choose his fruit, Pierre is able to produce wines of great character year in, year out. Sylvain Gaudron

The Gaudron family – fourth generation Gilles Gaudron is currently at the helm – has been making wine in Vouvray, Vernou since 1890, farming a 27-hectare vineyard, two-thirds of it with an average age of 30 years. The cellars date back to the 13th century, with 1km of galleries burrowed deep into the rock. These are classy wines, superb vehicles for Loire Chenin Blancs – all racily fresh with a fine, chalky minerality.

RHÔNE

The birthplace of Syrah, with the first cultivated vines in the region planted around 600 BC, the Rhône's strength lies in the broad spectrum of choice and value on offer.

From Côtes du Rhône and Côtes du Ventoux at one end, to the twin summits of Châteauneuf-du-Pape and Côte-Rôtie at the other, the Rhône provides enviable variety and wines to suit any list at any price point.

Domaine Yves Cuilleron

Having trained as a mechanic, Yves got bitten by the wine bug in the 1980s. So when his uncle retired in 1987, Yves jumped at the chance to run the family estate. At the time, Condrieu was relatively unknown, and Yves’ perfectionist approach from vine-planting to wine bottling resulted in wines that were to grab the attention of both consumers and critics – making them hugely in-demand, and raising the profile of the appellation as a whole.

Domaine Gilles Robin

Gilles took over the running of this estate in 1996. With a history of winegrowing spanning four generations, his aim was to realise the potential of the then 25-year-old vines (53 years old in 2024). Using only natural fertilisers and reduced yields, he was able to develop a richer concentration of fruit and quality. A new winery was built into the ground to allow the wines to be moved delicately by gravity. Gilles’ first vintage was so good that he won a gold medal at the Mâcon Fair, and his reputation has grown ever since, with accolades from industry heavyweights Decanter, Wine International, Robert Parker and Wine Spectator, just to name a few.

Southern Rhône

Domaine de la Janasse

More than 40 years after Aimé Sabon established Janasse at Courthezon, this iconoclastic young Turk of yesteryear is now established as one of the southern Rhône’s finest wine estates, spanning more than 90 hectares of vineyards.

Now under the control of Christophe Sabon and his sister Isabelle, Janasse’s much-lauded Châteauneuf-du-Papes are a quintessentially modern interpretation of the vineyards’ superlative raw material: deep colour, excellent fruit, supple tannins and extraordinary richness.

But that shouldn’t detract attention from the broader Janasse portfolio, including red and white Côtes du Rhône and a pair of fascinating IGP wines. The Viognier exhibits a fat, juicy style with lots of texture, while the Principauté d’Orange red owes its fruitcake character and distinctive tannins to the inclusion of Merlot planted just outside the Châteauneuf-du-Pape boundaries.

Domaine Chante Cigale

Domaine Chante Cigale is situated on the left bank of the Rhône, between Orange and Sorgues, on a variety of soils which contain a high proportion of ‘galets.’ These are the large stones of Châteauneuf-du-Pape, which heat up during the day and release their heat at night, allowing the grapes to achieve maximum ripeness. The red is powerful, with defined fruit characters and supple tannins. The white is fresh and attractive and an interesting alternative to ubiquitous Chardonnay.

Cellier des Princes is a cooperative of 240 growers, founded in 1924. Under the guidance of oenologist Philippe Cambie, it now enjoys a reputation as Châteauneuf-du-Pape’s leading cooperative. For the duration of their contract, growers must have to dedicate 100% of their crop to the cooperative. Grapes from individual growers are assessed and compared for ripeness and sugar levels before vinification, which takes place in temperature-controlled, stainless steel tanks. Wines are aged in cement tanks.

The broken crags of Les Dentelles de Montmirail form a dramatic, gap-toothed backdrop to some of the finest vineyards of Gigondas. Steeply terraced, low-yielding and back-breaking to work, they simply wouldn’t be worth cultivating if they didn’t produce great wine. Thankfully, in cuvées such as Laurent Brusset’s Le Grand Montmirail and Les Hauts de Montmirail, these south-facing terraces prove all that trouble worthwhile. The presence of a decent amount of Mourvèdre in the Brusset vineyards also gives an understated power and backbone that goes beyond typical Gigondas.

Maison Sinnae

Maison Sinnae is the new brand identity of Laudun-Chusclan, which are two villages in the Southern Rhône, on the right bank of the Rhône river and close to Châteauneuf-du-Pape. With close to 250 growers, many of whom are young with a modern approach, they are also proud of their winemaking history dating back to Roman times. After a 12-year partnership, Laudun and Chusclan are now one. They chose to pay tribute to their history by naming their collaboration Sinnae. During the Roman Empire, the villages of Laudun and Chusclan belonged to the Romans and the site today is an archaeological site called Caesars’ Camp, where Julius Caesar fell in love with the Goddess Cornelia Sinnae, in homage to this passionate relationship between both Romans. Sinnae is also certified ‘Vignerons engagés’, which is a French sustainable wine growing certification including the following guidelines: protection of the environment; a recycling scheme; a quality traceability scheme from the vine to the glass; ensuring producers are paid fairly; and support for local initiatives.

Previously overlooked for its reputation as a producer of underwhelming wines, today Provence continues to position itself at the helm of modern thinking and experimentation as the pioneer of dry, mineral-driven rosés with a characteristically light pink tint.

Boasting a winemaking history of over 2,600 years, Provence is the oldest wine-producing region in France, and the only place in the world with a research institute dedicated solely to the production of rosé and the improvement of the style which has made it so famous.

Under the guidance of head winemaker Romain Ott, fourth generation winemaker of the Ott dynasty, Léoube uses time-honoured artisanal methods and organic principles that work in harmony with the land and changing seasons to produce award-winning Provençal wines which reflect the unique and varied coastal terroir.

Emblematic French fortified wine estate Domaine Cazes is by far one of the most respected estates in Southern France. Founded by Michel Cazes in 1895, Domaine Cazes is located in Rivesaltes, in the heart of the Roussillon region - “The French Catalunya” - between the Pyrenees Mountains and the Mediterranean Sea. The DNA of their wines shows the perfect mastery of freshness, balance and the search for complexity. Inspiration, a carefree mindset and a little fantasy led them on their way! The owner and winemaker, Raymond Miquel, carries out thorough organoleptic analysis whilst the Muscat Blanc à Petits Grains grapes are still on the vine in order to achieve the perfect balance of sugar, acidity and ripeness. Only when Raymond is completely happy does he hand-harvest, sort and ferment the grapes at a cool temperature to preserve the delicate Muscat aromas. Cave de L’Ormarine

The white Picpoul variety is grown throughout southern France, but has gained a particularly strong reputation for quality in one specific area in the Languedoc – Pinet. This small appellation is situated halfway between Béziers and Montpellier, the vine’s tolerance to sandy soils making it a popular variety for the area’s coastal vineyards. Picpoul translates as ‘lip-stinger’, a name which gives a clue to the lip-smacking high acidity of this variety – the fresh, crisp wines produced from the grape are an ideal accompaniment for the oysters sourced from nearby Étang de Thau.

Domaine du Petit Roubié

Olivier and Floriane Azan, originally from a family of apple growers near Montpellier, made the move into growing vines back in 1981 with the purchase of the Château Petit Roubié estate, which then comprised just 15 hectares. Situated in the village of Pinet, overlooking the Etang de Thau, the domaine offers a range of organically produced wines but with focus on the distinctive and increasingly sought-after Picpoul de Pinet (a southern French version of Muscadet - according to many commentators). Soils are mainly a classic clay/chalk mix. By 1995 Olivier had converted the entire estate production to organic viticulture and Petit Roubié was the first producer of organic Picpoul de Pinet. He now farms a total of 60 hectares of vines including Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah, Tannat, Carignan and Sauvignon Blanc. It is the Picpoul, though, that dominates.

The Dubard family owns several properties both on the right bank of Bordeaux (Lalande de Pomerol, Puisseguin-Saint-Emilion) and the south-west wine region. The secret of the Dubard success story? Fresh wines with great purity of fruit, including a Sauvignon Blanc that can give more hallowed names a run for their money, a Montravel of great leesy complexity and a supple, fragrant Merlot made in a way that lets the fruit sing.

SPAIN

2025 TRENDS

Mediterranean

What was the homestay of big, bold red wines (often overly oaked) is now making way for brighter and fresher wines as winemakers exploit the ancient (often pre-phyllloxeric) vine material available. This, coupled with earlier picking, judicious use of oak and clay tinajas, has given rise to extremely elegant wines that are taking the world by storm. A key example would be the wines of Carlos and Juanjo Cerdan at Bodega Cerrón/Stratum Wines.

Galicia

With white wine consumption on the rise, Galicia is an area worthy of investigation; the now-heralded Albarino on the coast of the Rias Baixas provides a good introduction to this green region of Spain. Head inland and you will find the Treixadura blends of Ribeira, the textured Godellos of Ribera Sacra and Monterrei and of course the great value red wines of one of Spain’s most beautiful winegrowing regions, Bierzo.

Sparkling Wine

With a recent 100 point victory, Spanish sparkling wines are definitely a truly credible Champagne alternative, whether that be a top grower from the Corpinnat category, such as best-in-class Gramona, or the premium Cavas of Pere Ventura or Franck Massard. They provide traditional method sparkling wines that compete with the world’s best and often offer exceptional value for money, especially at the premium end.

Old Vines

There are few countries in the world where you will find such a concentration of old vines. From the 200-year-old parcel of Capitel Verdejo in Nieva to the rediscovered centenarian plots of Garnacha in Cordovin, you don’t have to go far to find exceptional vines that craft some of the world’s great wines.

Rioja in all its glory

What was once the home of the ubiquitous Crianza and Reserva is now a plethora of single vineyard sites, covering all wine styles from crisp dry whites to red wines that rival the best in the world. Our new additions show this is a region that, despite a long history, is still gaining traction and finding new fan across the globe.

NORTH CENTRAL

Home to some of Spain's most celebrated varieties - Verdejo and Tempranillo in its many forms (Tinto Fino, Tinta de Toro) - North Central Spain encompasses the renowned terroirs of Rioja, Ribera del Duero, Toro, and Rueda. This is a region where altitude plays a crucial role in balancing the continental climate, alongside unique soil compositions such as the beach sand and slate bedrock of Nieva. With exceptionally old vines, often on their own rootstock, the wines from this area are truly distinctive. The whites are balanced and harmonious, often with a subtle nod to Burgundy, while the reds showcase Tempranillo at its finest - elegant and refined - often complemented by the increasingly popular local Garnacha.

Rioja

Sierra Cantabria

Nestled between the foot of the Cantabrian mountain range that gives the winery its name at 1200m and the Ebro River at 350m sits the town San Vicente de la Sonsierra, a town of great winemaking tradition. Sierra Cantabria is a much-lauded family-owned producer who crafts wines of freshness, elegance and poise. Six generations of obsessive attention to detail and deep respect for the land has earned them a loyal following.

Viñedos Sierra Cantabria

The Eguren family has been making outstanding Rioja since 1870, and Viñedos Sierra Cantabria is their more contemporary brand. 19 carefully selected vineyards in Sonsierra and Alavesa across 65 hectares make the backbone of their estate, and back up the family’s mantra that “above all, we are grape growers.” Today, brothers Marcos and Miguel implement the accrued knowledge of five generations of their family, and cut no corners in the vineyard. Grapes are hand-selected to account for microclimates at different altitudes (from the River Ebro at 350m to the Sierra Cantabria mountain range at 1,200m).

Señorio de San Vicente

A pioneer in Rioja, Señorío de San Vicente was the first single vineyard, single winery, single wine operation. Led by Marcos Eguren, one of Spain’s greatest winemakers, the winery uses an elegant and nearly extinct variant of Tempranillo, called Tempranillo Peludo (Hairy Tempranillo). With the first vintage in 1992, Señorío de San Vicente moved to French oak in recent vintages for a more modern profile (90% French, 10% American), with the wine aged for 20 months.

Marqués de Cáceres

One of Spain’s most recognizable and respected wine brands, Marqués de Cáceres (MdC) has long been at the forefront of Rioja’s winemaking evolution. Known for its innovation and unwavering commitment to quality, MdC played a pivotal role in shaping what we now recognize as modern Rioja. Drawing on valuable experience and techniques honed in France, the winery brought a fresh perspective to Rioja’s traditional winemaking practices, blending the region’s rich heritage with new methods that focused on elegance, balance, and finesse. This bold approach to winemaking revolutionized the category and positioned MdC as one of the defining forces in the region’s modern identity.

From the very beginning, MdC’s wines stood out for their ability to combine the depth and character of Rioja with a refined, contemporary style that resonated globally. The winery’s focus on crafting wines of distinction, with a commitment to sourcing the best grapes from top-quality vineyards, allowed them to establish a reputation for excellence. Pago de los Capellanes

Upheld as the rising star on the Spanish scene over the past few decades, the landscape of Ribera del Duero is actually suffused with centuries of wine heritage - from gnarled Tinto Fino vines of venerable age, to the labyrinthine wine cellars that wind beneath the old cobbled streets of Aranda de Duero. Pago de los Capellanes may have all the modern bells and whistles - a recently-expanded vineyard and stunning winery facilities - but their history is rich and long, dating back to the 14th century.

Hailing from Cariñena DO, one of the three oldest denominacions in Spain, Care’s state-of-the-art winery produces great value wines with beautiful labels designed by local artist Enrique Torrijos. The grapes are sourced solely from their own vineyards, with four separate estates dating back to 1948, all of which are situated 15km from the winery and at high altitudes. The wines have great balance of fruit and oak due to a much shorter ageing time, with the Crianza spending only eight months in barrel. Care wines are certified vegan.

Nieva

Ossian

The mission of the Ossian project is to demonstrate the unique terroir and soils of Nieva. Located within the Rueda DO, these wines are nonetheless declassified to reflect the divergence of their geology and microclimate from the appellation’s norm. Drier and warmer, but with cooler nights, the grapes ripen to perfection in these ancient sandy soils which are home to vineyards of more than 200 years of age. The top wine, Capitel, stands apart for its unique composition with some of the few deposits of slate penetrating the grey sand to yield an incredible minerality not normally associated with the region. A truly Burgundian and nuanced expression of this typical Spanish variety.

Madrid

Bodega Marañones

Marañones was founded by Fernando Cornejo in 2008 as one of the true pioneers of the Gredos Garnacha movement. Sitting 80km west of Madrid, the region does not (yet!) have a formal appellation, and its identity is still being shaped by collaborations with talented winemakers, such as that with Fernando Garcia, who has since gone on to found cult winery Comando G. Marañones. The winery was founded on twin commitments to minimal intervention and to sustainability, in a bid to preserve the mosaic of soil types, aspects and altitudes that are a winemaker’s dream come true. In the winery, they favour larger vessels that allow the unadulterated, granitic character of the fruit to sing. When Fernando Cornejo announced his retirement, Alma Carraovejas bought the estate in 2020 and will continue to champion the sustainable mission.

CATALUNYA

Boasting a long and fascinating history of winemaking, Catalunya marries tradition and modernity, with artisanal winemakers crafting small parcels sitting comfortably alongside pioneering bodegas and co-operatives.

The birthplace of Cava, our portfolio reflects this with an exciting selection of fizz.

Gramona

Gramona leads the pack in terms of premium Cava production. Combining six generations of accrued family experience, Gramona represents integrity at every point in the production process. From indigenous grapes and biodynamic viticulture, to a minimum ageing period of 30 months, Gramona is uncompromising in its commitment to excellence.

This painstaking attention to detail has earned Gramona consistently high praise and scores from pundits, including a Platinum award in the 2020 Decanter World Wine Awards. Perhaps more impressively, Gramona is the only sparkling winemaker ever to win the overall top spot in Spain’s prestigious La Guia Peñin wine guide.

Cava

Pere Ventura

Pere Ventura’s prestigious Cava house was established in 1992, but draws on a sparkling wine heritage that extends deep into the past. In fact, it was Pere’s great-grandfather who was responsible for the first Cava ever made by the classical method used in Champagne, and his grandfather and father continued to hone their technique in producing Cavas of distinction and poise.

Catalunya

Franck Massard

Crowned with the impressive title of the UK’s best sommelier in 1996, Frenchman Franck Massard quickly forged an even more illustrious reputation as a winemaker. After falling in love with Catalunya – and Priorat in particular – he took the leap and branched out on his own. His are wines of character which have a story to tell, sourced from vineyards that often endure extremes of altitude, steep slopes and marginal growing conditions.

Vins Petxina - Celler 9+

Vins Petxina pride themselves on offering an honest, authentic taste of the Mediterranean; wines ‘made by the Mediterranean sea.’ Proximity to the sea allows temperatures to be more stable than the areas surrounding their vineyards, and the Vins Petxina team follow organic processes within the vineyards, emphasising the effect of the terroir upon the final products.

SOUTHERN SPAIN

Enjoying warmth and sunshine, this region is home to some truly exciting estates producing high quality, terrific value wines with a modern twist.

We have some exceptional wines, from La Mancha across to Jumilla, where terroir is brought to life through a combination of talented winemaking and respect for these frequently challenging environments.

Jumilla

Bodega Cerrón

The Cerdán family has managed this land since 1895, and the family portraits on the labels of all their wines are a nod to this family tradition. But when Juan José and Carlos Cerdán’s parents made the decision to break away from the local cooperative, it gave them entirely new levels of creative control over the expression of their high quality Monastrell fruit. The family were early pioneers of organic practices, as they became the first certified organic vineyard in Jumilla in 1995, while still selling their fruit to their local cooperative. All wines are now micro-vinified from single vineyards, and each parcel is carefully matched to different types of oak or amphora ageing vessels. Their vineyards sit at the highest point of Jumilla, at over 1000m altitude, exposing them to extreme diurnal variation.

Alicante

Bodegas Monóvar

Bodegas Monóvar is one of Alicante’s oldest wineries, and its flagship wine, Fondillón, has a history that stretches back over 500 years. It is a non-fortified, semi-sweet wine made in an oxidised style. In lieu of adding alcohol to fortify after fermentation, the wine is made from overripe Monastrell grapes from 80 year old vines. The wines are aged for 20 years in a priceless solera of 100 year old American oak barrels, that have been painstakingly collected by the Poveda family over the years. Today, Salvador Poveda is the winemaker, assisted by the legenday Raúl Pérez.

Bodegas Verum

Verum is one of the most exciting new names on the Spanish wine scene. Winemaker Elias Lopez is passionate about bringing back some of the lesser-known and almost extinct Spanish varieties. This is a single estate, organically cultivated, producing mono-varietals from classic and unusual grapes. Verum utilises some of the most ancient winemaking techniques paired with modern environmental philosophies.

Bodegas Fernando Castro

With a history dating back to 1850, Bodegas Fernando Castro is located in the heart of the Designation of Origin Valdepeñas, in Santa Cruz de Mudela. Nestled on the southern edge of the Iberian plateau and clearly defined by the plains of La Mancha to the north, the fields of Montiel to the east, those of Calatrava to the west and the Sierra Morena to the south, Santa Cruz de Mudela preserves the cultural and culinary traditions of La Mancha.

Covina

Coviñas Group is the leading winery in the Utiel-Requena D.O. It is a cooperative of cooperatives created in the Utiel-Requena “denomination of origin” in the 1960’s, when the wine growers of 10 cooperatives successfully joined forces to promote their wines and offer the market top quality wines, which demonstrate the local wine-growing and winemaking know-how, handed down from father to son, since the 7th century BC.

Coviñas represents over 3,000 growers in the Utiel-Requena region, under the cooperative banner, ensuring the fair treatment of the cooperative’s members, and promoting democracy, equality and solidarity as a model for success and as an engine to power the surrounding rural economy, in a responsible and sustainable manner.

Currently Coviñas cultivates more than 10,000 hectares, representing over 40% of the Utiel-Requena D.O. production.

GALICIA & ATLANTIC

Also known as ‘Green Spain’, Galicia is a far cry from the hot, arid conditions often associated with Spain.

Instead, lush, foggy, and often wet climates prevail, providing perfect conditions for indigenous grapes Albariño, Treixadura and Godello to thrive. Modern technology, specifically stainless steel tanks introduced in the 1970s, have a lot to do with one of the most exciting products of Spanish winemaking: cool climate, mineral and elegant white wines from the north Atlantic coast.

Rías Baixas

Bodegas Martín Códax

Bodegas Martín Códax is named after the medieval troubadour whose poetry is one of the oldest examples of Galician-Portuguese writing. His romantic poems are heavily imbued with coastal imagery, and today’s winemakers share this passion for sharing their culture. In 30 years, the cooperative has grown from 50 grapegrowers to over 300 families. They were integral to the recognition of the Rías Baixas DO in 1988, and have been setting the benchmark ever since.

Ribeiro

Viña Mein Emilio Rojo

Emilio Rojo is widely regarded as Galicia’s finest white wine. The 1.2 hectare vineyard is situated on the north-facing slope of Leiro in Ourense. The wine is a field blend of Treixadura, Loureiro, Lado, Godello, Caiño Blanco, Albariño and Torrontes grown on unique “sabrego” soils, which are meticulously maintained with organic viticultural practices. The Viña Mein wines come from the opposite side of the valley, from south-facing slopes barely a few kilometres away from Emilio Rojo. What these wines have in common is that all fruit is picked at optimum ripeness and fermented separately. At harvest, the winery is full of old oak, cement, glass and stainless steel vessels exploring the potential of microvinifications. This is artisanal winemaking at its finest.

Valdeorras

O Luar do Sil

Following 20 years of making red wines in Ribera del Duero with Pago de los Capellanes, the natural restlessness of the Rodero Villa family carried them on to a new adventure in Valdeorras, Galicia. The name of the new estate, O Luar do Sil, means ‘The Reflection of the Moon on the River Sil’, alongside which vineyards cloak the steep terrain of the rugged valley. This specific location was chosen because the land here is unique: the granite and slate soils, together with the microclimate, have created the ideal conditions for artisanal viticulture. The wines produced in the region using the indigenous Godello grape are subtle, mineral and fresh, with complexity to evolve over the years.

Monterrei

Terras do Cigarron

In addition to their main presence in Rías Baixas, Bodegas Martín Códax owns a couple of vineyards in Monterrei, which is a hinterland DO in Galicia, on the Northern Spanish border with Portugal. These vineyards are across the valley floor and up to 700m altitude. The diversity of microclimates is compounded by the variety of terroirs, allowing for experimentation with the Godello grape. These wines have exceptional structure and body, together with delightful aromatic complexity.

Bierzo

Cuatro Pasos

While Spain's reds are often associated with Tempranillo and Garnacha, the country is also home to another rising star: Mencía. This variety is gaining increasing acclaim from critics for its ability to produce beautifully structured reds and vibrant, juicy rosés. In Bierzo, Bodegas Martín Códax showcases the potential of Mencía through its Cuatro Pasos range. The label's distinctive paw prints pay tribute to the local bear population that roams the vineyard areas. Set in one of Spain's most picturesque terroirs, the region's steep terraces and tiny vineyard plots are planted with ancient vines accessible only by foot - ensuring a complete absence of mechanisation and preserving the purity of this unique landscape.

Getariako Txakolina

Adur

The vineyards of Txakoli occupy the north-west corner of the Spanish Basque Country. Hugging the Atlantic coastline in Getaria - the smallest region to produce this unique wine - is where Bordeaux-trained couple Maitena Barrero and Hector Gómez chose to set up and create their wine, Adur Txakolina. They work the vines to produce small yields - only 8000 bottles a year - to concentrate the Hondarribi Zuri grape in order to extract an intensity of aromas. It's a Txakoli with poise, weight and an insatiable salty tang.

SHERRY

Often revered as some of the most complex wines in the world, sherry represents one of the most diverse wine styles a budding sommelier could hope to explore. From the bone-dry, saline Fino and Manzanilla to the savoury, exceptionally complex Palo Cortado and Amontillado, and the decadent Oloroso and Pedro Ximénez, the Sherry Triangle is as rich in history as it is in beauty. With the rising trend of unfortified wines adding even more variety, there has never been a better time to discover the depth and versatility of this remarkable category.

Jerez

Bodegas Alonso

Brothers Fernando and Francisco Asencio set about rescuing some of Jerez’s soon-to-be lost soleras. Bodegas Alonso, with the ancient soleras of Pedro Romero, Gaspar Florido and Fernando Mendez, is home to some exquisite sherries that are among the best in the world. All single barrel bottlings, there is a selection to choose from including Manzanilla, Amontillado, Oloroso and some spectacular Palo Cortados.

Bella Luna (Sanchez Romate)

Sherry has officially slipped off its “grandma slippers and housecoat” image, and the Bella Luna trio are perfectly poised to capitalise on that, paving the way for the modern sherry drinker. The wines are sourced from the extremely reputable Bodegas Sánchez Romate, one of the few remaining wineries in the Jerez DO which is still in the hands of local owners. For over 200 years, the firm has witnessed rare privileges: in 1909 they were appointed as Official Purveyors to the House of Lords, and shortly afterwards as Official Purveyors to the Sacred Apostolic Palace of the Vatican.

PORTUGAL

2025 TRENDS

Indigenous Grapes

Portugal continues to build renown for its indigenous grape varieties and field blends, and what was once the obscure are now varieties we are all at home with. Both mono-varietal wines and also the incredibly complex field blends are worth seeking out, especially with regard to some of the country's more premium red wines.

Vinho Verde

Vinho Verde and its obvious commercial benefit (given recent duty changes in the UK) shows no sign of letting up, and the category is now supported with single vineyard and single variety variations.

White Wine

With the interest in Vinho Verde, there has been a knock-on effect for the white wines of Portugal. Whilst growth isn't as prolific as Vinho Verde, we are certainly seeing an upward trend, in much the same way as their Spanish counterparts in Rioja.

Fortified Wine

Despite the UK downward trend for fortified wines, 2024 brought some renewed focus to the category in the premium on trade, especially to the longer aged tawny ports. These can be incredibly expressive and complex wines and it is great to see some renewed interest.

Quinta do Crasto

Even among the breathtakingly beautiful and historic terraced vineyards of the Douro Valley, Quinta do Crasto is special. The estate celebrated its 400th birthday in 2015, and a demarcation stone marks its inclusion in the first geographical classification of the region’s vineyards in the 18th century. Owned by the Roquette family, Crasto is comprised of 70 hectares of vines that cling precariously to their schistous perch above the river plus 114 hectares deep in the Douro Superior.

CENTRAL EUROPE

2025 TRENDS

Spätburgunder

Germany has been making excellent Pinot Noir for decades, however with the current prices of red Burgundy, the world is having its head turned towards these stunning wines which offer stellar value.

No & Low

Germany continues to make progress in the technological innovations of reduced alcohol wine production. The range from Leitz continues to get better and better.

Surprising Sparklings

Traditional method sparkling wines from Hungary are continuing to win awards and captivate the sparkling wine consumer. Despite Sauska only venturing into their category around ten years ago, they are producing the very best in the country.

Furmint

Furmint February has become an annual fixture in the wine trade diary. The refreshing acidity and textural nature of Furmint makes it a great food partner and by-the-glass option. It is also wonderfully versatile when it comes to winemaking, meaning you'll find a great variety of styles from unoaked to oaked and bottled aged.

Juicy Reds

As lighter and crunchier reds have gained popularity over the the last few years, indigenous Austrian varieties such as Zweigelt really offer a lovely point of difference on a wine list.

Natural & Orange

Austria is full of young winemakers with a vibrant natural and orange wine scene. Check out Erich Machherndl, eighth generation owner of a Wachau estate, who is a dab hand at producing some very interesting skin contact wines under the ‘Green Label’ and ‘Yellow Label’.

GERMANY

With evidence that vineyards were planted in Germany more than 1,000 years ago, this is a country whose winemaking heritage is beyond question.

Rieslings from the historic and majestic Rheingau region are pure yet powerful, whilst few wine regions encapsulate terroir in a more expressive and evocative fashion than the Mosel. Germany is also home to the world's third largest plantings of Pinot Noir (known as Spätburgunder) which is creating complex, terroir-driven red wines in the reliably warm summers of the Pfalz.

Rheingau

Weingut Leitz

With a unique selection of Rieslings, including a non-alcoholic offering, Weingut Leitz is located in Rüdesheim, at the western end of the Rheingau. This family estate is run by Johannes Leitz, who took over what was then a 2.6-hectare property from his mother in 1985, aged just 21. In 2011, he was named “Winemaker of the Year” by Gault Millau, Germany’s principal wine guide.

Weingut Knipser

Renowned as one of Germany’s finest winemakers, the Knipser family hails from the Italian Südtirol, and have been farming in the Pfalz since 1876. Brothers Werner and Volker Knipser were pioneering in their focus on red winemaking, winning Germany’s first ever red wine competition in 1987. Werner’s children Stephan and Sabine are now deeply involved: tasting from barrel with Stephan is to experience pure joy as he fills your glass whilst cracking jokes. Though famed for their stellar Pinot Noir (Spätburgunder), which is always released with several years of bottle age, their Rieslings also gain plaudits for their combination of Pfalz sunshine and nervy tension. They are a VDP member and farm around 80 hectares of vines in Laumersheim, Grosskarlbach and Dirmstein.

AUSTRIA

Grüner Veltliner – Austria’s signature grape – has finally gained the recognition it deserves as producing wines suitable for any quality list.

The Wachau, with its steep terraces, marries minerality with opulence, whilst the softer hills of the Weinviertel impart a fruit-forward and joyous expression. But Austria’s strength is also in its diversity: reds made from Zweigelt burst with cherry flavours, while adventurous producers are at the forefront of the natural wine movement.

Wachau

Erich Machherndl

Weingut Machherndl, an 18 acre estate established in 1786, is run by eighth generation owner, Erich Machherndl, who believes in honest viticulture without compromise. His philosophy is simple; keep focused on tradition, believe in the vines – especially the 100-year-old vines – and do not become distracted by the status symbols of modern viticulture. His first goal is to produce exquisite wines that can be enjoyed and admired for many years.

Weinviertel

Pfaffl

R&A Pfaffl was founded in 1978 by Roman Pfaffl and his wife Adelheid. Located just north of Vienna in the Weinviertel, Austria’s premier winegrowing region, the winery was originally a working farm with less than two acres under vine. Over the years the winery has expanded and now encompasses more than 200 acres of sustainably farmed vineyards, planted with indigenous Austrian varieties including Grüner Veltliner and Zweigelt. In their short existence, not only have the Pfaffl wines been recognised for their excellence with international accolades, but the family too has been praised for helping to bring the world’s attention to Austria’s wine scene and their indigenous varieties.

HUNGARY

Hungary is starting to become known for its sparkling wines, with Sauska really leading this category. Furmint works brilliantly as a by the glass wine paired with food.

Interesting white blends and red blends from indigenous varieties, which offer adventurous drinkers something to experiment with, are at the forefront of the natural wine movement.

Tokaji

Patricius

While Tokaji is on the same latitude as the cool-climate Chablis region in France, the central European location of this Hungarian region means it enjoys a much warmer climate. It's thanks to this, along with the influence of the Tisza and Bodrog rivers, that the area experiences the perfect conditions for noble rot. Patricius came to be after Hungarian exile, Deszö Kékessy, returned to Tokaji and acquired 150 hectares of vineyard after building a successful business in Switzerland. The attention to detail at Patricius is breathtaking: re-planting and even re-orienting rows of vines where necessary, and upholding admirable standards of perfection in both their vine-growing and winemaking endeavours. This dedication and passion pays off in spades, with wines that display exquisite elegance and class, complex fruit and honey flavours, minerality and rapier-like acidity.

Sauska

Christian and Andrea Sauska have been crafting highly admired Hungarian wines for nearly 20 years. In the famous Tokaji region they make exceptional dry white wines from both local and international grape varieties, as well as classic sweet aszú and late harvest wines. Traditional method sparkling wines are also made under the expert eye of Régis Camus of Rare Champagne, with a dedicated new cellar being constructed in Budapest. The second winery is in Villány, near Christian's hometown in the deep south on the border with Croatia. This winery produces red and rosé wines, and is home to a world-class restaurant. The family's relentless drive towards quality includes practising organic viticulture (non-certified) and employing biodynamic practises in the vineyard. The Sauska family are pushing the boundaries of quality wine in Hungary, proving its potential as a prime destination for fine wine lovers.

Incredible Alternatives

Despite the gathering traction of still wines from the UK, difficult vintages have slowed its progress. That said, the whites and rosés are offering some incredible alternatives to mid-range Burgundy and Provence, and the reds on occasion (and subject to a good vintage) are well worth seeking out.

World Class

The UK continues to build its reputation as a producer of world class Chardonnay and its Blanc de Blancs sparkling wines continue to rival the best of Champagne. A category that shows little sign of slowing up.

Blanc de Noirs

Blanc de Noirs is a style that is also showing a lot of promise, not least as a less expensive sibling to Blanc de Blancs. Now commonplace on restaurant wine lists, it can often offer more structure and fruit profile, even if perhaps the elegance and finesse of Chardonnay is missing.

Hattingley Valley

From its birth as a farm diversification project back in 2008, family-owned Hattingley Valley is today recognised as one of the leading producers of English wines. Located in the heart of rural Hampshire, they now farm some 24 hectares of vines across two separate sites and their custom-built eco-friendly winery was the first in the UK to adopt solar power. The traditional method is integral to making their exceptional sparkling wines and they owe their unique style to the use of barrel ageing, as well as extensive ageing on lees. This has led them to win much international acclaim and a multitude of awards ever since the launch of their first wines in 2013.

GREECE & LEBANON

2025 TRENDS

Assyrtiko

Assyrtiko has really found its niche, offering a crisp, refreshing and enjoyable wine under the price of many more traditional alternatives. A worthwhile apéritif, with its slightly oaked bigger brothers and sisters offering something truly gastronomic. Greek Assyrtiko is now a truly established category for both us and our customers.

Red Wine

The bold red wines of Greece are slowly being tempered. Despite soaring temperatures and lack of rainfall, good vineyard practices and earlier picking dates are moderating these wines to make them truly enjoyable, whether with food or not.

Santorini

The mineral wines of Santorini continue to show promise and are winning new admirers everyday. The volcanic soils offer structure and nuances that make them a great trade up from the wines of the mainland. These should be on every oenophile's list for 2025.

GREECE

With a history of over 6,500 years of winemaking, Greece has gone from an overlooked wine-producing country to one of the most exciting choices in the UK drinks industry.

The superstar Assyrtiko grape makes highly complex mineral-driven wines in the dramatic volcanic landscape of Santorini – one of the world’s great white wines. The mountainous terroir of the north is expressed through the red Xinomavro grape, providing food-friendly and age-worthy wines.

Macedonia

Ktima Kir-Yianni

Kir-Yianni was founded in 1997 by Yiannis Boutaris, one of the leading figures in the Greek wine industry, when he left the Boutari Wine Group, the premium family wine company that his grandfather established in 1879. Today Stelios Boutaris, member of the fifth generation of winemakers, leads Kir-Yianni into the next phase of its history by dynamically exploiting the cornerstones of the Kir-Yianni philosophy: desire for innovation, respect for tradition and true knowledge of the wine, from the grape to the end consumer.

Domaine Sigalas

Founded in 1991 by pioneering winemaker Paris Sigalas, Domaine Sigalas is widely regarded as one of Greece’s finest wine producers. Key to the domaine’s success is their use of native varietals to celebrate the unique terroir, establishing single vineyard expressions. Their winery is nestled between vines on the scenic plain of Oia, in the Northern part of Santorini. Today Domaine Sigalas comprises about 50ha of vineyards, all over 60 years of age, planted on volcanic soils. These vineyards are either owned by the estate, leased or tended to in cooperation with local grape growers who they have worked closely with for decades. All vineyards are cultivated in a sustainable manner and only the very best grapes are hand selected to go into Sigalas’ wines.

LEBANON

As visitors to the Roman temple of Bacchus in Baalbek will tell you, wine has been important to people here since ancient times.

Settlers have also shaped recent winemaking history, with French grape varieties dominant, including Cinsault, Carignan, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot. Altitude is key: with vineyards commonly planted at 1000m, the heat is tempered, and harvests are typically later than some parts of the Languedoc.

2025 TRENDS

Grenache

Due to increasing global demand, Grenache continues to be the most expensive variety in Australia, going for up to $5000 a tonne. It's being made in a wide range of styles to suit every drinker, from juicy carbonic wines, to more serious concentrated and dense wines made from old vines. Tipped to be the next big red variety from Australia!

Victoria

The cool climate region of Victoria is starting to captivate the masses as consumers look for lighter and fresher wine options. Additionally, it's diverse climate and heritage have encouraged experimentation with alternative grape varieties - in particular Italian. This combination of quality, sustainability, and innovation is driving the growing trend and international appeal of Victoria wines.

Mataro

Also known as Mourvèdre in France and Monastell in Spain, but most commonly known for its presence in the classic GSM blend - this variety is becoming increasingly popular as a single varietal wine. Unlike the rustic, tannic and robust Bandol wines, their Aussie counterparts are gentle and refined with a typical savoury spicy character. Try Teusner's The Dog Strangler or the iconic Farvie Mourvèdre from Swinney.

Alternative Varieties

Mediterranean varieties such as Fiano, Sangiovese and Nebbiolo are still an enormous passion project for winemakers all over Australia as they find ways to battle climate change. They are really gaining traction with younger and more experimental drinkers.

Pikes, renowned for their world-class Riesling, produce a ripe, tropical Fiano, still with their trademark elegance, and Pizzini have built a strong following in the UK with Italian varietal offerings from a Lambrusco through to their Sangiovese and Nebbiolo wines.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA

The huge diversity in both geography and climate means that South Australia can produce a vast range of styles.

Offering distinctive Rieslings from the cooler climes of the Eden and Clare Valleys, Shiraz with power and elegance from the Barossa Valley, formidable Cabernet Sauvignon from Coonawarra, and flinty Sauvignon Blanc from Adelaide Hills, this is the heartland of Australia's wine country.

Barossa

Teusner Wines

When winemaker Kym Teusner overheard Barossa grape growers lamenting that they would have to rip out a plot of 85-year-old Grenache vines because they couldn't find a buyer to stump up the asking price, he knew he had to step in. At the time, he was still the winemaker at Torbreck, but he approached his brother-in-law, Michael Page, with a proposition to save as many of these vines as they could afford. The pair went into business, and produced their first vintage of The Joshua, a GSM blend, in 2002. The pair have gone from strength to strength, forging a reputation for working with Barossa growers to source old-vine fruit for elegant and complex wines.

In 2020, Teusner merged with Spanish-owned grower Terramoll, who have been investing in Barossa vines for over 20 years. This move gives Teusner access to 120 hectares of prime Barossa vines.

Chaffey Bros. Wine Co.

This is the exciting new face of winemaking in Australia. Established in 2008 by brothers-in-law Daniel Chaffey Hartwig and Theo Engela, Chaffey Bros champion Riesling, Shiraz and Grenache from the Eden and Barossa Valleys. Working in the realm of minimal intervention, artisan, small-batch wines, the pair prioritise experimentation and quality. Dan and Theo share a love for the sometimes brutal, remote landscapes of the Barossa and Eden Valleys, which also boast a rich tapestry of passionate communities.

Pikes

Pikes is best known for their Riesling range, capitalising on the Mediterranean climate of the Clare Valley. The Traditionale Riesling is the biggest selling premium Riesling in the domestic market, and their no-frills, pragmatic approach to quality wine has stirred up an extremely loyal fan base. With Jamie Pike now at the helm, Pikes stands for family values backed up by a non-pretentious approach. Pikes have done a lot of heavy lifting, both domestically and globally, to raise the profile of Aussie Riesling, which has been a long time darling of the wine trade, but sometimes misunderstood by consumers.

Silver Lining Wine Co.

Legendary winemaker Marty Edwards left the family business, The Lane Vineyard, when he was diagnosed with Parkinson's in 2012. Determined not to be defined by this condition, Marty underwent a cutting-edge Deep Brain Stimulation operation in 2018. Despite the challenges he faces, Marty couldn't shake off his love of wine, so he created a new winery, "Silver Lining," and declared the first vintage in 2020. Part of the profits from sales of these wines will be donated to Parkinson's Disease research in Australia, making the story and purpose behind these wines every bit as captivating as their quality.

Wynns

In 1891, a Scottish pioneer began planting vines in this corner of Coonawarra, but it was only in 1951 that Melbourne-based wine merchants Samuel and David Wynn bought and consolidated the vineyards, and established the Wynns estate. This estate was instrumental to the history of this region, now famed for its distinctive terra rossa, which is uniquely well-suited to Cabernet Sauvignon. With winemaker Sue Hodder at the helm for over 30 years, the estate has seen remarkable stability, enabling the delivery of long-term vision to rejuvenate the vines and reconstruct the vineyards.

VICTORIA

Home to some of mainland Australia's coolest vineyards, Victoria is synonymous with pure expressions of classic varieties.

With a hugely diverse geology, from the ancient granite boulders of the Strathbogie Ranges, to the cool foothills of King Valley, and the wind-and sea-battered Mornington Peninsula, this is Australian wine at its most dramatic.

Fowles Wine

When a producer calls one of its wines ‘Ladies Who Shoot Their Lunch,’ you know you’re experiencing a wine story that’s just a bit, well, different. Matt Fowles – self-taught hunter, chef, winemaker and jazz trumpet player – was an unfulfilled lawyer before buying a winery out of administration and creating Fowles Wine. Food-friendly wines are Fowles’ focus, with their products specifically designed to be consumed with game.

Yarra Valley

Rob Dolan

While wine has always been a passion of Rob’s, his career began as an Aussie Rules Footballer. With two premierships to his name, Rob hung up his boots and began to earn his stripes as a winemaker, first in the Hunter Valley, before moving to Yarra Ridge in the 1990s. Receiving James Halliday’s ‘Newcome of the Year’ Award in 2014 reinforced his ability to build relationships with the region’s best growers to become a specialist in cool-climate Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Cabernet Sauvignon. Rob believes that the best wines are dependent on the best fruit and takes a ‘less is more’ approach to his winemaking. Partnering with growers has also given him the flexibility to experiment with parcels of less typical varieties, like the Black Label Marsanne we have in our portfolio.

King Valley

Pizzini Wines

Pizzini is a family-owned winery in the King Valley wine region in northeast Victoria, a region home to many Italian families. Alfredo and Katrina Pizzini's winemaking dream began in 1978 when they planted their first vines, initially selling grapes to other wine companies and then releasing wines under their own label in 1994. With a commitment to Pizzini's Italian heritage, they have a real focus on Italian varieties including Pinot Grigio, Verduzzo, Lambrusco, Nebbiolo and Sangiovese. A truly family-run business, with their four adult children all working in the business alongside Alfredo and Katrina, they continue to ensure their business focuses on their four loves – wine, food, family and friends. A little slice of Italy in Australia.

NEW SOUTH WALES

Lying on the continent's east coast, New South Wales is Australia's second largest wine producing region and home to a variety of winemaking communities, each representing a diversity of unique terroirs and climates.

Whilst the most notable region in the state is Hunter Valley, New South Wales is full of undiscovered wine regions such as Orange. This unique and up-and-coming wine region is located 3.5 hours West of Sydney, with vineyards up to 1300m in altitude that are capable of producing world-class cool climate wines.

New South Wales

Pure Wine Company

Duxton Vineyards is based in the Southern Murray-Darling Basin which lies just inland behind Melbourne and Canberra, stretching across the New South Wales-South Australia border to Adelaide. The Murray-Darling Basin is recognised as one of the most fertile regions in Australia, producing a number of high-value crops alongside grapes, such as citrus fruit, nuts, stone fruits and cereals. Duxton Vineyards’ wines are estate-produced, following a modern approach to viticulture and heavily influenced by respect for the environment. These are uncomplicated, lovingly made, great value wines.

Orange

Mayfield Vineyard

The Mayfield estate was originally granted to explorer William Charles Wentworth as a thank you gift from the Governor of New South Wales. The land was used for livestock until the Thomas family first planted vines in 1999. This is one of the highest vineyards in Orange, between 880-970m, which makes it well-suited to the cool climate varieties the Thomases planted: Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Sauvignon Blanc and Riesling. The Eastham family bought the 91 hectares of Mayfield in 2021, and soon after brought in award-winning viticulturist Charles Simons. Simons is known for his data-driven, minimal intervention vineyard management. He says, “The ethos of the viticulturist is that the more footsteps, as opposed to tractor tracks, in the vineyard the better. Some of our premium vines will be touched by a human five to six times per year. We aim to do the right thing once, at the right time. Technology helps us achieve this.” In the Easthams’ first vintage, the Sophie’s Godmother Sauvignon Blanc was featured in Matthew Jukes 100 Best Australian Wines 2022, suggesting this small winery is destined for great things.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

While Western Australia is the country's largest region, production accounts for just 5% of the total wine produced in the country, with pioneering wineries producing elegant wines of serious quality and effortless sophistication.

Its wine regions are almost entirely in the cooler climates of Margaret River and Great Southern on its southwestern tip, and have been awarded more gold medals than any other Australian wine region.

Great Southern

Swinney

The Swinney property in Frankland River was established in 1922, providing high quality fruit to many of Western Australia's top wineries. With their heritage lying in grape growing, it was in the last decade that siblings, Matt and Janelle Swinney (fourth generation) established a boutique range of wines from the very best plots within their estate. The family's winemaking philosophy focuses on terroir, and the wines Swinney produce represent the very best of modern Western Australian wine. They continue to push boundaries by establishing Grenache, Tempranillo and Mourvedre as bush vines, a rarity in this part of the country.

Inheriting the name of the most influential family in Western Australia's winemaking history comes with responsibilities that husband and wife duo Rob and Genevieve Mann don't take lightly. They speak openly about the legacy they are now a part of, and the unique, small-parcel wines they craft do them complete justice. Rob and Genevieve have more than 40 years of combined winemaking experience across Sicily, California, France and South Africa. Drawing on this broad range of influences, they have settled in the Swan Valley just outside of Perth.

TASMANIA

A place of breath-taking, wind-whipped, rugged and unforgiving natural beauty, Tasmania offers Riesling, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir that express the purity of the island.

Typically bright and fresh, these wines have great structure and racy acidity.

Tasmania

Stargazer

Stargazer – brainchild of winemaker Samantha Connew – pays tribute to Abel Tasman, an explorer and navigator who spent much of his time gazing towards the heavens. Tasman, a Dutchman under the employ of the United East India Company, was the first European to sight Tasmania, and then the South Island of New Zealand 19 days later. Samantha, a gifted innovator in her own right, fell in love with the Island and the mystery surrounding it, and after only four vintages she gained five-star recognition from James Halliday, including the 2015 vintage.

2025 TRENDS

Sub-Regional Marlborough

Marlborough continues to be the dominant force of New Zealand wine in the UK. Check out Rapaura Springs, who are really telling the story of the different sub-regions in Marlborough and how their micro-climates and soils impact the wine in your glass.

Pinot Gris

Lighter and easy-drinking styles of Pinot Gris are an incredibly popular trend back in NZ and we think it's only a matter of time before it comes to the UK. Try Seresin's delicious Pinot Gris, with juicy pear fruit, honeyed texture, freshness and drinkability.

Premium Organic Pinot Noir

The quality of Pinot Noir being produced is the best it's ever been, showing real typicity of place with often Organic principles at the heart of what they do. All of our Pinot producers including Seresin, Peregrine and Urlar are making stand-out examples with minimal impact on the environment.

Urlar

If farming is in the blood of ex-pat Scot Angus Thomson – he represents the fifth generation of Thomsons to work the land – then so too are wines and spirits. Both grandfathers were in the whisky business, but Angus forged a new path when he sold his farm in Forres and set up shop in NZ. More than a decade later, the Thomsons have a 31-hectare vineyard and a range of organic wines shining with beautiful varietal expression. The mission here is sustainability, following organic and biodynamic principles in the vineyard. It’s no surprise then that the estate’s name, ‘Urlar’ means ‘the earth’ in Gaelic.

Summerhouse

Summerhouse Wines are sourced from a unique, coastal sub-region of Marlborough called Blind River. The brisk ocean breeze keeps things cooler and drier so the grapes can soak up the best bits of summer and have a longer ripening period. These award-winning wines are full of flavour and as the owners like to say “It’s Always Summer Somewhere” giving us a taste of summer, anywhere, any time of year.

SOUTH AFRICA

2025 TRENDS

Less Oak

South Africa was once well-known for its very full-bodied, rustic, oaky reds. The UK market is embracing the shift away from this approach and enjoying the high-quality fruit characteristics taking centre stage.

Chenin Blanc

Chenin Blanc continues to be the shining star of South Africa. From well-crafted entry level options delivering exceptional value, through to the super-premium offerings which showcase the complexity of flavours, this grape variety is capable of.

Cap Classique

Cap Classique sparkling wines have always been gently sitting in the background on the South African wine scene, however the last two years has seen a renewed interest in these wines. Whether made from Chenin Blanc or traditional Chardonnay / Pinot Noir blends, they offer sunny New World fruit with traditional Champagne toastiness.

MAN Family Vineyards

The story behind MAN Family Wines started as a simple idea, with its founders, Jose, Tyrrel and Philip resolving to make wines that they would actually want to buy and drink. To keep the peace over the amount of time they foresaw spending making this vision a reality, the winery was named with the first initials of the founders’ three wives; Marie, Anette and Nicky. Today, MAN Family are champions of unirrigated, quality wines, with great with strong presentation and brand appeal.

Ken Forrester Wines

Without the efforts of industrious men like Ken Forrester, South African Chenin Blanc might be scarcely more than a footnote to the country’s winemaking history – a workhorse grape, producing vast amounts of unmemorable white wine. Thankfully, this Zambia-born former restaurateur saw beyond the grape’s obvious quaffability, going on to produce wines such as The FMC that have not only elevated the varietal to world renown, but resulted in their creator being bestowed the moniker ‘Mr Chenin.’

Thelema Mountain Vineyards

Cabernet may be its trump card, but the origins of Thelema owe more to the wines of Burgundy than Bordeaux: it was a bottle of Puligny-Montrachet that lured Gyles Webb away from accountancy in Durban to winemaking in Stellenbosch.

Armed with a winemaking degree and influenced by travels in Tuscany, Bordeaux and California, Gyles and his wife Barbara – a noted triathlete – bought Thelema, an old fruit farm high on the slopes of the Simonsberg mountain, in 1983. This is the wilder side of Stellenbosch, where spotted leopards roam the vines and a combination of elevation and eucalyptus trees creates a much-prized style of Cabernet with a distinctively minty freshness.

These days Gyles is Cellar Master, with the talented Schultz brothers (Rudi and Werner) responsible for the winemaking and vineyards respectively. But the philosophy remains true to Gyles’ original vision, centred on the principle of what he calls ‘benign neglect’ – minimal fining and filtration, and no use of commercial yeasts in the red wines. True also to the Thelema name, taken from the idealised concept of a new world order imagined by 16th century French monk, physician and writer Rabelais.

Morgenster

New and Old Worlds meet at Morgenster. The estate was bought by Giulio Bertrand in 1992 and is now run by his daughter and granddaughter, Federica and Vittoria Bertrand. He held a vision of making the best Bordeaux-style wine outside France. The property’s shale soils, cool breezes and proximity to the Atlantic provide ideal growing conditions for the French varietals planted there. Only a portion of each vintage is released on launch, with the rest kept, evaluated bi-yearly and released in batches, allowing customers access to several vintages of the same wine.

Kleinood

The de Villiers family has left deep footprints in the history of the South African wine industry through the centuries, and Kleinood and the Tamboerskloof wines are no exception. The French Huguenot, Jacob de Villiers, bought the wine farm Boschendal between Stellenbosch and Franschhoek, after immigrating to the Cape of Good Hope in 1688. In the year 2000 Gerard de Villiers, a direct descendant of Jacob, and his wife, Libby, found the piece of land that stole their hearts – complete with mountains, river and a pristine tract of indigenous forest. Tamboerskloof is once again an integral part of the de Villiers family history as well as that of Cape Town and the Boland. The name Tamboerskloof means the valley (kloof) of the drums (tamboer).

Babylonstoren

A contemporary and innovative estate in the heart of Paarl, Babylonstoren seamlessly brings together wine, fresh produce, landscaped gardens and luxury hospitality - including its UK sister property, The Newt in Somerset. With origins dating back to 1692, the estate has been meticulously restored by the Bekker family since 2007.

Today, 88 hectares are under vine, with 13 grape varieties grown on slopes reaching up to 600 metres on the Simonsberg. While grapes have long been cultivated on the farm, the first Babylonstoren-labelled wines were released in 2011, under the expert leadership of cellar master Charl Coetzee and winemaker Klaas Stoffberg. These wines combine heritage, precision and a strong sense of place.

Devon Valley

Martin Meinert

Established by Martin Meinert, the man involved in the creation of some of South Africa's finest wines of the past two decades, comes this special and personal family project. Devon Crest Vineyard – an apt name for an estate sitting on the south-facing ridge of the Devon Valley with distant views of False Bay – is a more decorative title than the one the vineyard had when the Meinerts bought it in 1987: Remainder of Farm 78, Division of Stellenbosch. This is traditionally red wine country, expressed through wines such as Synchronicity's blend of Cabernet, Merlot and bush-vine Pinotage, so it might come as a surprise to find a white Merlot, called 'The Italian Job', among their impressive selection.

Elgin

Sutherland

After establishing Thelema Mountain Vineyards as one of the icon South African wine estates, Gyles Webb embarked on a new challenge in the early 2000s; to develop a range of cool climate, site-specific, small volume wines. Following a long search, Gyles discovered a small apple orchard in the Elgin Valley, and Sutherland Vineyards was born. Elgin is uniquely set on a high plateau surrounded by four mountain ranges and situated just 9km off the Atlantic Ocean, creating the ideal growing conditions for cool-climate Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and lighter styles of Cabernet. One can expect wines of vibrancy, linearity and modernity.

BRAZIL & URUGUAY

2025 TRENDS

Environmental Impact

Sustainable winemaking in Brazil is gaining momentum, with several wineries adopting eco-friendly practices and innovative techniques to produce high quality wines whilst minimising environmental impact. Wineries are also increasingly embracing organic and biodynamic viticulture methods.

International Recognition

Brazil has established its position as the largest producer of sparkling wines in Latin America along with international recognition for quality, particularly in the Serra Gaúcha region. Our very own Casa Valduga produced the first Brazilian wine to be awarded the title of best sparkling wine in the world at the Vinalies Internacionales competition with their exceptional 130 Blanc de Blanc.

Beyond Tannat

While Tannat undeniably remains the flagship grape of Uruguay, other varietals such as Albariño, Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Noir are making an impact. Producers are also highlighting blends and innovative styles of Tannat to broaden the appeal, whilst showcasing the characteristics of its robust performance in the often mild, humid conditions.

Lighter Styles

Climate change has prompted adaptations in winemaking practices, leading to Uruguay’s earlier harvests and the use of innovative techniques such as concrete ageing. These developments have contributed to the production of lighter, more modern expressions of traditional varietals.

Brazil

Casa Valduga

In 1875, the first generation of the Valduga family emigrated from Northern Italy to Brazil. They soon began cultivating vines in what is known today as Vale dos Vinhedos, meaning 'The Valley of Vineyards'. As one of the oldest wineries in Brazil, Casa Valduga is still a family business after six generations.

CHILE

2025 TRENDS

Pushing Boundaries

As Chile continues to focus its efforts on premiumisation, the spotlight has naturally turned to wine regions pushing the boundaries - Elqui, Atacama, Malleco, Itata and Pucon to name a few. The shift towards cooler climates, higher altitude and the exploration of new terroirs has resulted in the production of distinctive, premium regional wines.

Trading Up

The UK was the third highest export market worldwide from a value perspective in 2024, with an increase in average price per litre. Chilean wines are well noted for providing excellent value across entry price points, but this is a positive indication that consumers are trading up within the category.

Sustainability Code

In 2010 Chile implemented a comprehensive Sustainability Code to ensure wineries meet rigorous standards across four key areas; vineyard, winery processes, social aspects and wine tourism. The code has been highly successful, with over 80% of Chile's wine exports now being certified, which has made significant strides in sustainability - positioning themselves as global leaders in eco-friendly winemaking practices.

Alternative Whites

Wineries are increasingly experimenting with other white grape varieties, diversifying their production beyond the traditional Sauvignon Blanc and Chardonnay. Plantings of Pinot Blanc, Riesling, Semillon, Albariño and indigenous Italian varieties are all interesting grapes being explored throughout Chile.

De Martino

De Martino was the first winery to label a wine as a single varietal Carménère, and also the first winery to export Carménère from Chile. Having won the “Winery of the Year” accolade on three separate occasions, De Martino very much sets the tone worldwide for the quality that Chilean wine can achieve.

With three generations of expertise under their belts, De Martino isn’t interested in resting on its laurels. In 2011, winemaker Marcelo Retamal made a concerted push to modernise the style of his portfolio. Tapping into global trends for picking earlier, using only indigenous yeast and avoiding new oak, the De Martino house style has evolved towards elegance and purer fruit expression.

Leyda Valley

Viña Leyda

Casablanca Valley might represent Chile’s first intrepid steps into cool-climate production, but it’s Leyda that took a series of determined, confident strides. Just 14km from the vast Pacific Ocean, the Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Syrah planted here express a crispness, minerality and fine-boned structure not found elsewhere in Chile’s viticultural paradise. Under the direction of winemaker Viviana Navarrete, Leyda’s pioneering spirit has continued with single vineyards, along with successful experimentation in the way of different clones and soil types. One of her most exciting endeavours is a single vineyard Lot 4 Sauvignon Blanc produced from a Sancerre clone – the result of which is wonderfully elegant and mineral, as a relation of Sancerre should be, with added richness and fine acidity.

Cachapoal

Viña San Pedro

In 1865, the Correa brothers set up Viña San Pedro with the intention of spearheading the introduction of Old World grape varieties to the Curicó Valley. Today, this is one of Chile’s most prominent wineries and it continues to live up to its heritage by embarking on a joint venture in 2002 to create fine wines. In partnership with Château Dassault in Saint-Émilion, they are based in the foothills of the Andes, where they focus on production of fine wines from Altair and Sideral.

Itata

Hit Wines

This brand new project brings together one of Spain’s finest young winemakers, Elías Lopez, and Fernando Almeda, a man with over 30 years' experience crafting wines across Chile. Drawing on Fernando’s deep knowledge of the different terroirs of Itata, they seek to champion the unsung viticultural heroes of this often overlooked region and give a voice to the ancient vines that inhabit the land. The first vintage is something truly exciting from the New World’s oldest winemaking area.

Elqui Valley

Viña Falernia

If your acquaintance with the vineyards of Chile doesn’t extend beyond Maipo, Rapel and Colchagua, the Elqui Valley might come as a bit of a shock. First of all, this northern enclave of earth tremors and UFO-spotting really does resemble a valley, running east to west and with a growing population of vines drawing on the vital irrigation of the Elqui River (there are typically fewer than three inches of rainfall a year in this arid region).

At a time when Elqui was better known for distilling Pisco and for growing other fruit, Falernia was a true pioneer, led by cousins Aldo Olivier Gramola (who also makes Pisco) and Trentino winemaker Giorgio Flessati.

This Italian-inspired revolution has seen the planting of a 320-hectare estate on four sites along the valley, from the sometimes fog-shrouded, low-altitude area near the Pacific right up to more than 2,000 metres above sea level – some of the highest altitude vineyards on earth.

This diversity of microclimates and soil types allows for everything from Sauvignon Blanc to Syrah to thrive here, expressing a purity of fruit and freshness that is the envy of many vineyards further south.

New last year from Falernia were a Riesling and a Malbec, the latter benefiting from Elqui’s combination of unrivalled sunny weather to concentrate fruit, and cool nights to preserve elegance and finesse.

ARGENTINA

2025 TRENDS

Redefining Malbec

Argentina is synonymous with Malbec, but the diversity with this varietal is huge. The vast breadth of the country encompasses the extreme altitudes of Salta in the North, to the Pampas in the East, and the Southern canyons of Patagonia. Malbec truly displays a wide expression of fruit profile, acidity and tannin purely from the variety of terroir, altitude and growing conditions across the country.

Extreme Viticulture

Uco Valley in Mendoza is an unforgiving terrain, with its hard rocky landscape and little in the way of water reserves aside from the meltwater of the Andes. In these tough growing conditions there aren't many things aside from grape vines that can survive across this landscape - and here is where winemakers have honed their craft, learning to adapt and find the very best plots for what is amongst the most unique winegrowing in the world.

Blends & Cabernet Franc

In recent years, Argentina has seen a marked rise in the popularity of both blends and Cabernet Franc, reflecting a broader shift away from the dominance of Malbec. Bordeaux-style blends often anchored by Malbec and complimented by Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc, have gained international recognition for their unique expression of Andean terroir and softer tannins. Cabernet Franc, once a minor player, has emerged as one of the country's fastest growing varieties, with plantings more than doubling over the past decade in response to a surge of both domestic and export demands. Winemakers are increasingly drawn to the variety for its savoury character, aromatic complexity, and ability to bring freshness and elegance to blends, adding to Argentina's evolving wine scene.

La Celia

La Celia’s story began in the late 19th century when Eugenio Bustos traded his prized horse for Malbec vines, unknowingly pioneering what would become Argentina’s flagship grape. Nestled in the foothills of the Uco Valley, the winery - named after Bustos’ daughter - spans diverse terroirs, with altitudes ranging from 980m to 1,100m, producing wines that truly reflect their origins.

Today, winemaker Andrea Ferreyra continues this legacy, crafting exceptional Malbec, alongside Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Pinot Grigio, all with a focus on showcasing regional diversity, fruit-forward styles, and minimal intervention. From its rich history to its innovative sustainability practices, La Celia offers wines perfectly aligned with the modern UK palate.

Domaine Bousquet

Domaine Bousquet is the legacy of a long and prestigious history that bears the Bousquet surname. A family with four generations of winemaking tradition, the Bousquet family comes from the Carcassone region in the south of France. 28 years ago they began their journey as pioneers in organic agriculture. They are the main winery producer and exporter of the “certified organic wine” category in the country and the greatest promoter of a sustainable path with their community.

Bousquet Premium

Domaine Bousquet’s premium varietal series comprises a blend of estate and purchased fruit from the Uco Valley. The grapes benefit from major diurnal temperature swings, achieving exuberant ripeness while retaining the moreish juiciness. The wines are vinified with a French touch and are un-oaked, allowing the fruit to shine through and making the wines extremely food friendly.

Gran Bousquet

Gran Bousquet stars the best grapes from the ‘home vineyard’ – the original site planted by the Bousquet family in the late 1990s. This was the terroir that caught their imagination because it had a rarity – sand. Sandy soil with its low fertility, good drainage and lack of salinity issues makes for elegant wines, which is the family’s key focus. Grapes here are amongst the last to be harvested, which ensures heightened richness and body.

Verum Patagonia

Winemaker Elías López Montero enjoys finding new challenges on the back of his Southern Hemisphere winemaking experience. Due to climate change, most people have been seeking new ventures north, but thanks to Elías’s knowledge he looked to Patagonia, the most southern wine region on the planet. There he found the right vineyard and winery to give shape to the project Verum Patagonia.

After tasting different grapes in the vineyard, Elías fell in love with the land named ‘Maria Victoria’ which coincidentally is his mother’s name. Just as he leaves the vineyard, he comes across a heart-shaped stone which now features on one of the wine labels. These coincidences made it easy for Elías to name and design his first wine here. From that year on the project was born, with his first wine being María Victoria Malbec – becoming the first Spanish oenologist to make wine in Argentine Patagonia.

NORTH AMERICA

2025 TRENDS

Storytelling

Wine drinkers are seeking a deeper connection to their choices and opting for authenticity. The USA is particularly well versed in promoting its wines in a way that celebrates its heritage and history, which resonates with those consumers who value authenticity. Expect to see labels that tell a story, showcasing the unique roots of the contents of the bottle.

Lighter Reds

More wineries are producing lighter reds, reflecting a growing trend toward wines that are more approachable and versatile. Leading the way is Oregon with its long, warm and dry summers, combined with cool evenings which produce high quality Pinot Noir that is often likened to Burgundy. The variety is now planted across 60% of the region. Other varieties such as Mencia are being grown in Washington State, Grenache in Pasos Robles and even Lambrusco is being produced across California.

Diversity

Winemaking across North America showcases a remarkable diversity, reflecting the unique terroirs, climates, and grape varieties across various regions suiting all price points and palates. From sun-soaked Sonoma, cooler coastal Monterey, the significant diurnal range of Pasos Robles and glacial lake influence in the Finger Lakes, the resulting bold reds of California to the elegant whites of New York reflect the unique characteristics of each region’s climate and terroir.

Beaulieu Vineyard

Founded in 1900 by George de Latour, who saw similarities between Napa and Bordeaux, Beaulieu Vineyard is one of the most historic wineries in Napa Valley. Remarkably it is one of the longest continually operating wineries in the region, remaining unbroken even during prohibition, with the estate's wines being sold to the church for communion wine!

Share A Splash

Share A Splash wine co. (formerly Cannonball Wine Co.) was established by Yoav Gilat in 2006, and since then has grown from a modest Cabernet producer to a solid industry player. Their mission is to produce wines that offer quality, character, and approachability that surpass expectations for the price, and always deliver a serious splash! Share A Splash wine co. winemaker Ondine Chattan embodies the company's uncomplicated approach to wine: 'I am inspired by the purity of flavours in the grape varieties themselves and endeavour to present those flavours in various ways – be it bold and direct – no translation needed, or subtle and layered – unfolding slowly'. Share A Splash wine co. embraces the belief that wine, like life, is best enjoyed when shared.

MacMurray

Actor Fred MacMurray bought the MacMurray ranch in 1941 and embraced the rancher’s lifestyle, raising prize-winning cattle and farming crops, while his children rode horses through the hills. Transformed into a world-class vineyard in 1996, MacMurray Ranch quickly became one of Russian River’s most acclaimed Pinot Noir vineyards. Today, the estate has expanded and encompasses vineyards throughout the Russian River Valley and the Central Coast.

Bogle Family Vineyards

It’s now over 50 years since father and son Chris and Warren Bogle established their first vineyard on eight hectares of land near Clarksburg in California. While the Bogle estate has since expanded to cover 14 different sites in the cooler areas of the Delta region near Sacramento, the boutique philosophy embraced from the outset still continues. Siblings Jody, Warren and Chris run the operation today as the sixth generation of Bogles in California, applying the same dedication and passion as the generations that came before them.

California

Francis Ford Coppola

Filmmakers Francis Ford Coppola and Eleanor Coppola first entered the wine industry in the mid-1970s, when they purchased a part of Napa’s Inglenook winery in Rutherford. The Coppolas’ wine interests moved in two directions simultaneously: they developed both the Napa heritage property and its high-end wines, and their higher volume, value-priced brands and tourist destinations in Sonoma. Francis cemented his presence in Sonoma in 2006 when he bought the former Chateau Souverain winery and established a plerotha of brands, including Archimedes and Diamond Collection.

Bonny Doon Vineyard

Randall Grahm is the daring, pioneering brains behind Bonny Doon. Since he set up the winery in 1983, he has been the driving force behind the cult craze for transposing Rhône varietals to the USA’s West Coast, spotting the similarities between the Mediterranean climate and terroirs. A by-now iconic front cover of The Wine Spectator cemented Randall’s reputation when it featured him in fancy dress as The Lone Ranger with the headline, “The Rhône Ranger: Maverick Californian”.

No true maverick can bear to stand still for long, so Randall recently rejigged his entire range and has consolidated it to just four wines. The philosophy is stylish, elegant, accessible, great value and fun. Randall keeps his link to the Rhône Valley alive with his branding: the UFO on the label of Le Cigare Volant is a nod to the notorious law in Châteauneuf-du-Pape outlawing UFOs.

Orin Swift

The story of Orin Swift Cellars dates back to 1995, when on a lark, David Swift Phinney travelled to Florence for a study semester and quickly fell in love with wine. Three years later, Phinney started his own venture with just two tonnes of Zinfandel and an insatiable passion for his craft. What started as a tiny production project has now grown into an empire of wines distributed across the world, with Phinney establishing himself as one of the most influential and innovative winemakers in California.

Massican

Massican is a unique, pioneering California winery, holding the title of Napa’s ‘only white wine winery’ for over 15 years, inspired by the vibrant, refreshing styles of Northern Italy and the Mediterranean. Founded in 2009 by Dan Petroski, Massican stands out in Napa and Sonoma—regions typically known for red wines - by focusing exclusively on white varieties such as Tocai Friulano, Ribolla Gialla, Chardonnay, and Pinot Bianco, sourced from sustainably farmed vineyards. With a commitment to minimal intervention, Massican crafts crisp, pure wines—most notably its signature blend, Annia—that reflect both the character of California’s terroir and the spirit of Mediterranean whites. These wines provide a fresh, food-friendly alternative to the region’s traditional reds, redefining the potential of California white wine.

Ken Forrester Wines

From a lifetime of specializing in Chenin Blanc and having worked in the Loire as well as across most regions of South Africa, it seemed Ken Forrester need an entirely new project. Collaborating with famous photographer and good friend, Andy Katz, he began a new and exciting project. Ken and Andy also teamed up with Andy’s son, Jesse Katz, winemaker featured in Forbes 30 under 30 he is an up-and-coming rock star on the Californian wine scene. They searched and found an incredible Cabernet vineyard on a hillside not too far from the Diablo Pizzeria, and it was here Ken set about building the bridge between friends and between continents. The team have created a deep, dark Cabernet of blackcurrant and plum flavour: a wine of which they are truly proud and which is probably as different to any Chenin Blanc Ken could imagine.

Peller Family Estates

The Pellers are Icewine pioneers, and were one of the first families to explore the possibilities of this unique Canadian style of wine. Commitment to Icewine production isn't for the faint-hearted, but this didn't daunt the Pellers; the family took it one step further, planting their Niagara Peninsula vineyards closer to Lake Ontario to make their products even fresher and more food-friendly. Their efforts paid off – the wines that result are uniquely unctuous, with a piercing streak of lip-smacking freshness.
